Illustrations Of Coins On Obsolete Paper Money

Issued In The United States

by George D. Hatie, LM 310

Introduction

Paper money, by reason of its size, is most suitable for topical collecting. Obsolete bank notes and merchants scrip portray innumerable objects, persons and events such as animals, birds, ships, locomotives, buildings, manufacturing and agricultural activities, works of art, statemen, military leaders and other personages, and battles and other historical occurrences. From the standpoint of the numismatist, particularly one whose interests extend to both coins and paper money, a most interesting topical collection consists of paper money depicting coins.

It is the purpose of this article to provide a comprehensive catalog of obsolete bank notes and scrip portraying coins, the present listing being limited to those issued in the United States. The catalog includes a total of 558 notes from 32 states and the District of Columbia. Although the list is not intended to include notes of the United States Government, it would seem desirable to mention that the latter issued only two types of notes illustrating coins: (1) the five dollar silver certificate, Series of 1886, with the reverse portraying an obverse dated 1886 and four reverses of a silver dollar (Friedberg, 259-265) and, (2) the national gold bank notes of California, Series of 1870-1874, in denominations of $5, $10, $20, $50, $100 and $500 (latter unknown), with the reverse showing a group of 1, 2 1/2, 3, 5, 10 and 20 dollar gold pieces (Friedberg, 1136-1166a).

The coins depicted on the notes listed consist of Spanish coins, United States coins (silver and gold dollars predominating and also coins of 5¢, 10¢, 25¢, 50¢, $10 and $20 denominations), and items referred to as quasi United States coins. The quasi coins resemble regular United States mint issues but differ therefrom in one or more respects. Each coin referred to is a United States coin unless a Spanish coin is indicated. The term "Spanish coin" includes any coin issued by authority of the Spanish government. Among the Spanish coins portrayed on paper currency are those bearing mint marks of the Lima, Madrid, Mexico City, New Guatemala and Potosi mints.

Of course, the purpose of including illustrations of coins on paper money was to create the impression (usually false) that the notes were identical in value to the coins portrayed.

The Spanish milled dollar of 8 reales and its fractional parts of 1/2 and 1 real and 2 and 4 reales were the principal coins of Colonial America. Spanish coins circulated in this country until 1857. Spanish and Spanish colonial coins portrayed on bank notes and scrip that circulated in this country include:

1/2 real coin on a 6 1/4 cent note,
1 real coin on a 12 1/2 cent note,
2 real coin on a 25 cent note,
4 real coin on a 50 cent note,
8 real coin on a one dollar note.

In the United States not only were Spanish coins used, but prices were computed in United States funds based upon their then equivalent Spanish denominations. As an illustration, postal rates during the period from 1816 to 1845 were 6 1/4¢, 12 1/2¢ and 18 3/4¢ (1/2, 1 and 1 1/2 reales) per letter, dependent upon the distance carried. A Spanish real was also known as a bit and the United States quarter is still occasionally referred to as two bits.

The earliest notes listed are three Maryland colonial notes issued during the period from 1767 to 1774, each showing two very small reverses of a Spanish piece-of-eight. Most of the notes catalogued bear dates ranging from 1813 to 1863.

Some coins on the catalogued notes are described in greater detail than

About the Author

The author, currently Vice President of ANA, is a Detroit corporation attorney. He has served ANA as legal counsel from 1965 through 1969, as a member of the Board of Governors from 1967 to date, and as a chairman or member of sixteen different committees. He has been President of the Token and Medal Society and five regional, state and local numismatic organizations. His activities include service as President of Michigan Humane Society; as a member of the Boards of Trustees of the National Kidney Foundation, Kidney Foundation of Michigan, and the Girl Scouts of Metropolitan Detroit; and a recent member of the 1975 Assay Commission.

others. Coins not described specifically appear on notes that have not been available for the author's examination and the details have been taken from books and other data. Aside from the location and name of the issuer and the denomination, the description in each case is limited to that of the coin or coins unless other details are required to differentiate between two or more notes of the same issuer and denomination.

The catalog does not include notes with coins that cannot be identified, such as small coins flowing from a cornucopia and disclosing no design. Checks, advertising notes and satirical notes are not included in the present catalog but will be listed separately at a later date. Two additional catalogs are in the course of preparation, one relating to Canadian notes and another listing notes from other countries, all with coin or quasi-coin vignettes.

The material listed has been derived from a study of numerous notes and scrip, the books and pamphlets listed in the bibliographical section included with this article, and information provided by various specialists in the paper money field. Although the bibliography includes primarily books, pamphlets and articles that describe notes with coin vignettes, it also includes other material that indicates the absence of notes depicting coins in a particular state.

Acknowledgments

The author is indebted to a number of specialists in the paper money field for material embodied in the catalog. L. Candler Leggett has loaned to the author a typewritten manuscript of his forthcoming work, "Mississippi Obsolete Notes and Scrip," along with Xerox copies of Mississippi notes depicting coins. Dr. Leonard M. Rothstein has supplied copies of substantially all of the Maryland notes listed. Lawrence Falater, Earl Hughes, Dr. Walter B. Jones, Bob Medlar, and Matt H. Rothert have furnished paper money from their collections for illustration purposes. Eric P. Newman has provided several photographs and much needed information. Other specialists who have given information and assistance include: Charles J. Affleck, Arthur Aron, William C. Bruce, Dr. Terry A. Bryan, Maurice M. Burgett, Michael Calaba, Robert R. Cook, Grover C. Criswell, Jr., James J. Curto, C. John Ferreri, Dennis Forgue, Paul Garland, Gordon Harris, Louis H. Haynes, John T. Hickman, Richard T. Hoober, Jim Horntrop, Chester L. Krause, Leonard M. Owen, Dr. John A. Muscalus, J. Roy Pennell, Jr., Russell Schuler, James F. Stone, George W. Wait, and Harry G. Wigington. The author appreciates the time and effort expended by each of them and also by others who responded to inquiries but were unable to provide information as to additional notes.

The Catalog

The notes are numbered consecutively for each state. Although the listing is comprehensive, there are obviously many additional items that have not been brought to the author's attention. The notes may be referred to by state and number (e.g. NY 3) and notes subsequently discovered may be referred to by adding a letter to the number (e.g. NY 3a).

President Culver and George D. Hatie, ANA vice president, share in the honoring of Valentine "Val" Pasvolsky during his testimonial dinner recently in Hazlet, New Jersey. Pasvolsky is holding the first issue of the New Jersey Numismatic Journal, which was dedicated to him by the Garden State Numismatic Association.

Congratulations are in order to those who founded the Garden State Numismatic Association. It was my pleasure to represent the ANA at their inauguration banquet honoring a fellow Indian, Val Pasvolsky. He has given much to our hobby, so it was delightful to see him receive this special honor. Best wishes for continued success to this new state organization. The quality of their first quarterly, the New Jersey Numismatic Journal was outstanding.

Preceeding the twentieth NASC show in Los Angeles, some of us gathered to discuss the new law in California which affects all coin dealers. The synopsis of this meeting can best be summarized in one word: education. There seems to be much apathy towards these state statues which actually affect all those selling rare coins. Unfortunately, the state does not distinquish between the numismatic dealers and the bullion dealers. The NASC show was the first large convention I attended when I first entered the hobby, so naturally it is a special treat to see old friends and to make new ones.

Figures do not lie. During the National Coin Week membership drive last year, more new ANA members were signed up than at ANY time in the history of our association. It was the most successful membership drive and we hope this year will equal or surpass that record. Why can't we make our 51st anniversary of NCW even greater than the 50th? An individual member and a dealer member will be honored for securing the most new members. There are numerous ways in which all of you can participate in NCW. Are you ready to do your share during the week of April 20th through April 26th?

The host club for our annual convention this year in Los Angeles is the Numismatic Association of Southern California. The committees and chairmen are working hard to make this one of the best and biggest yet, and their plans are taking shape rapidly. It is not too early for those of you who plan to attend to reserve your rooms. Further details can be found elsewhere in The Numismatist. Our biggest problem is space and it is most unfortunate that we will not be able to accomodate everyone in the convention hotel, although there are others close by. So, a word to the wise — plan ahead.

Summer seminar plans are being finalized by our executive director, Ed Rochette. Again, it is not too early to make your reservations for this combination vacation plus numismatic fun. For those of you who missed the new museum dedication, it is a grand chance to have the numismatic thrill of your life.

Tribute to 200 Years of Freedom:

The Story of How The United States Got Its Bicentennial Coinage

by David L. Ganz
LM 1072

The Long Winter

It was a long winter between the meeting of the Coins and Medals Advisory Panel in September, 1970, and the hearings that would be held on the bicentennial medal program early in the first session of the 92nd Congress. During this period, Advisory Panel members lobbied on behalf of the proposal, albeit to little immediate avail. Nonetheless, their persistence swayed a number of influential members of both houses of Congress who became increasingly receptive to some sort of bicentennial coinage commemoration.

Clifford Mishler noted in a letter to George Lang, Advisory Panel chairman, that "visits to various Congressional offices evidenced a wide base of support for a broad and meaningful bicentennial program involving legal coins."[211] It also appears that Mishler was a motivating factor in the October 1 letter from Wright Patman to Daniel Mahoney.[212]

"I have... been requested by Congressman Patman's aid[e]s to provide his office with the necessary guidelines for drafting the required legislation,"[213] and "they have indicated to me that they would like to incorporate provisions for the coin of the realm, special commemorative coin... issues."[214]

Eric P. Newman, chairman of the production and distribution subcommittee, while opposed to a complete coinage change because "asking for all denominations of the regular issue to be changed in 1976 is impractical and may cause a rejection of the entire program,"[215] hoped nonetheless for some coinage change so that "in this important commemorative work... we can... bring about inspiring and satisfying mementos for the public at large."[216]

Report Number 5, issued at the end of 1970, had recommended that a coin of the realm change and the issuance of a commemorative coin be promoted in conjunction with the bicentennial celebration, but it was the commemorative medals program that actually brought the bicentennial commemorative proposals before Congress.

Treasury action on the medals program resulted in hearings being scheduled in late June before the Subcommittee on Consumer Affairs of the House Banking and Currency Committee. Although the hearings were intended only to deal with medals proposed for the Bicentennial, a number of people participating in the hearing — witnesses and members of Congress — were determined to try and at least partially air the need for a bicentennial coinage, which the Treasury seemed determined to keep in the deep freeze.

First Coinage Bills in Congress

In the meanwhile, both Federal agencies and Congress also became concerned. On February 19, 1971, exactly 1,976 days prior to the start of the bicentennial year, 1976, Daniel Mahoney, chairman of the ARBC, announced that the organization was "calling for a change of design to be instituted on all coins of the realm beginning in 1976."[217] In April, Sen. Frank Church, Democrat of Idaho, was the first member of either house to introduce bicentennial coinage legislation. His bill, S. 1565, provided for a minimum of 225 million sets of two or more proof or uncirculated special commemorative coins. These special, noncirculating commemoratives would be struck from a silver stock.[218] He also called for a bicentennial design for the pieces to be chosen only after consultation with the Joint Commission on the Coinage.[219]

Immediately preceding the hearings on the Administration's bill "to provide for the striking of medals in commemoration of the bicentennial of the American Revolution,"[220] several other bicentennial commemorative proposals were introduced in both the House and Senate. The sponsors were Rep. James A. McClure, Republican of Idaho, and Sen. Peter H. Dominick, Republican of Colorado.

The McClure bill dealt largely with the medallic commemoration of the Bicentennial, however the final section of the bill provided that:

> In commemoration of the two hundredth anniversary of the United States, the Secretary [of the Treasury] shall cause to be minted and issued, in such limited quantity as he determines appropriate, $1 pieces which shall have—
> (A) a diameter of 1.500 inches,
> (B) a cladding of an alloy of eight hundred parts of silver and two hundred parts of copper, and
> (C) a core of an alloy of silver and copper ... The coins authorized under this section shall be of such design as the Secretary [of the Treasury] determines to be appropriate after consultation with the American Revolution Bicentennial Commission.[221]

Hearings Held by House

Hearings on the ARBC medals program opened June 29, 1971, before the Subcommittee on Consumer Affairs, chaired by Rep. Leonor K. Sullivan, Democrat of Missouri.[222] For the proponents of bicentennial coinage, it was a bright moment. The committee, they believed, would be sympathetic. Less than a year earlier, Mrs. Sullivan had indicated her personal support for bicentennial coinage.[223]

McClure appeared before the subcommittee to speak on behalf of his bill, but was informed by the chairwoman that while his commemorative medals proposals would be discussed, "we did not intend to go into the coinage aspects of the Bicentennial today because I understand that the Treasury Department and the administration have not yet developed their own position on bicentennial coinage."[224]

Although Mrs. Sullivan found McClure's "comments on proposed new coins ... of interest to us," she noted that they would be "outside the scope of this hearing."[225] Still, she allowed a number of witnesses and subcommittee members to make some preliminary comments on the coinage proposals of the ARBC, in addition to those concerning national medallic commemoration.

First of the effective points made in favor of bicentennial coinage was the October 1, 1970, letter from Chairman Patman to David Mahoney, cited supra. While Patman's letter did deal in part with the medallic commemoration issue, most of the letter was critically concerned with revamping the bias of the Treasury towards the issuance of commemoratives for the bicentennial. In this powerful position as chairman of the House Banking Committee, Patman was able to yield considerable influence through this letter.

Chester L. Krause, publisher of Numismatic News Weekly, was among those witnesses who brought out the need for Congress to consider bicentennial commemorative coins in addition to medals. While falling short of accusing the Treasury Department of dragging its feet, and acknowledging to the subcommittee that consideration of commemorative coin issues would probably occur at some other time,[226] he still thought it important to discuss the need ot "project... an image of what we have done, or what we have accomplished in the 200 years" of independence by using a coinage medium.[227] In "A Plan of Direction for the American Revolution Bicentennial Committee," a staff study prepared for the record by the editors of Numismatic News Weekly, the need for coin commemoration of the Bicentennial was hit broadside:

> The ARBC should give first priority to the achievement of a very comprehensive bicentennial coin program.... The most desirable [program] would certainly be the offering of a completely redesigned range of coins for circulation.
> Logically, all coin sales under such a plan should be allowed to rest with the Treasury's Bureau of the Mint.
> The bicentennial coinage should be ready for release in early January of 1976 for maximum impact. To achieve this end the Mint would be required to place the coins in production well in advance and stockpile them for nationwide release.[228]

The Staff Study further recommended that a design competition "open to all American designers and sculptors"[229] be held, and that a double-dating "1776-1976" be employed.[230]

The importance of the Staff Study was not lost on Mrs. Sullivan, who commented that she "strongly support[s] the idea of having special bicentennial coins, perhaps just for the year 1976," but, almost prophetically, she added that, "you people are going to have to work on the Secretary of the Treasury to get behind that because we have received no indications as yet of the administration's views on special bicentennial coins."[231]

Despite this, Mrs. Sullivan said, "I think it is a good idea."[232]

The Treasury Position Explored

The Treasury remained intractable in its position, continuing to oppose the issue of special bicentennial commemorative coins or any change in the coin of the realm for 1976. Although Mint Director Mary Brooks was known to favor such coinage,[233] she apparently could not persuade Treasury Secretary John Connally to go along with any of her recommendations in this area.

For more than a year, Mrs. Brooks was in communication with senior legislators in Washington, including her home state representatives from Idaho. Assured by them that there was an overriding sentiment on Capitol Hill favoring a bicentennial coinage change — and bolstered by communications such as Patman's letter — she continued to lobby for this view in the Secretary's office.

In an extensive interview in May, 1972, most of which has been previously unpublished, Mrs. Brooks confided some of her personal goals for numismatic commemoration of the Bicentennial. Much of what follows still remains in my notebook, or as an unofficial transcript.

It is evident from the interview that Mrs. Brooks had taken a personal interest in having some bicentennial commemorative issue. "I've talked with Mrs. [Leonor K.] Sullivan about the bicentennial coin issue," she said, "but I must check this out with... Treasury channels. I can't make the decision."[234] Asked how this could be done, she explained: "It would have to go through my superiors at the Treasury — they'd have to make the decision. This might be something for the Joint Commission on the Coinage to pass on."[235]

The key, Mrs. Brooks said, is that "you have to have legislation. You cannot have coinage without legislation, unless the twenty-five year statute has expired."[236] She added that she hoped any such legislation would only change the designs on one or two of the coins because, "if we changed all the coins, it would be a disaster!"[237]

Asked what coins were being proposed, she spoke of "[a] number of bills [which] have been recently presented. The latest is a change of the 50 cent piece and the dollar."[238] Her own choice, at this time, was "a half cent piece... it's something that the country definitely needs."[239]

Queried about her thoughts about striking a gold commemorative coin for the Bicentennial, the Mint Director replied, "I'd love to strike a gold bicentennial coin. No more wonderful way could be found to commemorate our bicentennial than with a gold coin."[240] Asked further if she anticipated production problems, Mrs. Brooks replied that, "we'd have to go into that later."[241]

While a proponent of a coin of the realm change for the Bicentennial, Mrs. Brooks remained inextricably opposed to a special commemorative issue for the same reasons that she expressed before the ARBC Advisory Panel on Coins and Medals. "A commemorative coin is different from a bicentennial coin," she said.[242]

Mrs. Brooks did not appear to anticipate any problem in producing bicentennial coinage so long as it was a part of the coin of the realm schematic. "In Philadelphia," she said, "the production problems have been eliminated now. We're producing 18 million coins today, and when we get our new line presses, we'll go up to 25 million coins a day. We're almost to the point where we have a good stockpile of coins... we could squirrel these coins away [in order to produce bicentennial coins]."[243]

What, though, was her ultimate aim for these coins — what should they tell the American people? How should they be designed?

"I want the young people to understand the nation's history," she explained, and appreciate "what suffering and agony we staged to give birth to a nation... The bicentennial observance gives us the opportunity to tell our young people our heritage. Our nation was founded on a search for freedom of religion and freedom from oppression, by very brave men. Young people forget this today. They don't study this."[244]

Asked how she proposed that the coins be designed, she favored an open competition for all the sculptors of the nation. "I feel badly," she confided, "that we don't encourage sculptors."[245] The bicentennial coin design competition, she seemed confident, would be an important development in obtaining the best possible design for the coins.

1972 Advisory Panel Hearings

If positive action was to take place on the bicentennial coin and medal program as it was originally conceived by the ARBC Coins & Medals Advisory Panel, events had to begin to move more rapidly. Following the hearing before the Consumer Affairs subcommittee,[246] however, inaction seemed to be the watchword of the day. A staff "fact sheet" lists only five additional positive actions taken between June 29, 1971, and year's end.[247] Of these, three related to a request by Joseph Segel of The Franklin Mint to address the full ARBC on his organization's opposition to H.R. 7987, the bicentennial medal bill.[248]

Preparing for the scheduled January 18, 1972, meeting of the Coins and Medals Advisory Panel, ARBC director Jack LeVant wrote to various producers and distributors of medals, tokens and wooden money "to ask your organization, if it is interested, to please furnish us with material on your firm as to its primary area of interest in... (a) production, (b) promotion, (c) packaging, (d) marketing, (e) sales [and] (f) distribution"[249] of bicentennial numismatic products. Replies were received from a number of well-known, and some lesser-known manufacturers and distributors, each of whom had a variety of suggestions for bicentennial programs — should any be given the Congressional sanction.[250]

It was early in the morning, 8:30 a.m., on January 18, 1972, when Chairman George Lang said, "welcome to another working session of the Coins and Metals [sic] Panel of the American Bicentennial Commission."[251] After welcoming John Jay Pittman, newly elected ANA president as the latest member to the panel, Lang quipped that he almost felt com-

[243]Ibid., pp. 2-3. In the same interview, Brooks acknowledged that the Mint expected to produce about 12 billion pieces annually by 1980, thus probably necessitating a three-shift production operation (round the clock). Despite this, there seemed to be no apparent problem in manufacturing bicentennial coinage.

[244]Ibid., p. 3. In a slightly different vein, but very relevant to these views by Mrs. Brooks, this appears to be the motivating factor in her decision to produce the small book, Our American Coins. Ganz, "White House Reception Big Boost for Juniors," NNW [UTG] (July 11, 1972), 6.

An examination of both CW and NNW for the period in question indicates lack of substantive progress except for the publication of the 1971 Hearings by the subcommittee. The ARBC, however, limited its progress to the five items mentioned.

pelled to ask "everybody what you have done during the vacation."[252] As we have seen, however, it is just as well that he did not.

Tentative agenda for the January 18 meeting called for the discussion of commemorative coins as well as currency and coinage of the realm.[253] Three topics, ultimately, were discussed in depth: a set of bicentennial medals for the fifty states, use of a philatelic-numismatic combination (PNC), and commemorative coinage of the realm.[254] While the meeting would be productive in the sense of approving the concept of a first PNC design,[255] it did not progress well from the standpoint of those wanting bicentennial coinage.[256]

Coinage Proposals Considered

"It has been recommended by this Panel that there be a commemorative coin," commented Dr. Lynn Carroll, a staff member of the ARBC,[257] but in what turned out to be a characteristic understatement, he added "[w]e don't have any expertise in the area."[258] "As you have seen recently, ... the number of suggestions coming out in terms of paper currency as well as in terms of coins... we had suggested at the staff level, as a kind of amendment to your recommendation, that it would be appropriate to have a two-dollar coin, one cent for each year of the Nation's Independence," he said.[259]

Mint Director Brooks responded heatedly: "I have already told the Commission that I am afraid of a two dollar — we are replacing presses to produce dollars.... I don't know what you are thinking of, but it might make it necessary for us to purchase some special presses in order to produce a coin of this nature."[260]

"I would like to have a coffee break," Chairman Lang said, and the committee went into recess.[261]

When the meeting resumed, Mrs. Brooks once again took to the floor and made her pitch for what the Treasury and the Mint were willing to do for the Bicentennial. "Possibly," she told the committee, "it would be a very nice consideration for the bicentennial to change the dates on all the coins of the year 1976, putting the date 1776 and the date 1976 on all the coins."[262]

Ultimately, Congress would adopt this proposal in minor form, incorporating a double-date (1776-1976) into the obverse design of the quarter, half dollar and dollar while going somewhat farther by allowing an entirely new reverse design emblematic of the Bicentennial. When Mrs. Brooks made the statement, however, it represented the total government offer, double-dating on six coins: one cent, nickel, dime, quarter, half, and dollar. At that, "this would give us a production problem of building an inventory."[263]

[255]Advisory Panel Vice Chairman Margo Russell recognized that this was the panel's first major accomplishment, but also knew that it was long overdue. "We must never let such ineptness or apathy creep into this important program again," she complained in a Feb. 15, 1972, letter to Chairman Lang (photocopy on file, ARBA, p. 4).

[256]This is the view in retrospect. For a contemporary examination of the progress of the panel, where it is noted in part that both coin and medal plans advanced for the Bicentennial, see "Bicentennial Coin, Medal Plans Advance," NNW (Jan. 25, 1972) 1, 10. [263]Ibid., 41. Ironically, this "inventory" problem would later plague the mint and force a suspension of the use of the 1975-date for quarters, halves, and dollars. See infra for details.

Terming this a "good, sensible approach,"[264] Mrs. Brooks believed that his was palatable to Congress. What is more likely, however, is that after much persuasion, Mrs. Brooks was able to change the bureaucracy of the mint and Treasury which for some forty years had been opposed to any change in design that resembled commemorative coinage.[265]

Eric P. Newman was not quite sure what Mrs. Brooks said she was agreeing to and asked for clarification. In response, the mint director said that "to my knowledge, there hasn't been any change in the Treasury position on changing the face of the coin....[Double dating] would be a very sensible way to give the birthday of our nation an importance to everybody who handled the coins that year."[266]

Debate began to grow tense as Mrs. Brooks was questioned about her bureau's policies, and those of the parent Treasury Department. "How would it materially differentiate between putting these dates 1776 and 1976 on the coin? You have to stockpile it.... How do they justify the difference between these two possible courses?" queried Clifford Mishler.[267]

"I'm just a spokesman for the Treasury Department," Mrs. Brooks responded.[268]

"It is unbelievable to me that there would be a stance against [changing one side of a coin]," he countered.[269] Other panel members soon joined in, one wondering if it "really [is] a greater effort to find a new design for one [coin] than just changing the dates."[270]

Treasury Policy and Congress

As the discussion continued, Mrs. Brooks quite correctly pointed out the crux of the problem: that the ARBC had to deal not with the mint and the Treasury, but would ultimately have to find a way of "getting a bill through" Congress.[271] In doing this, her rationale went, the advisory panel had to consider the past practices of Congress. Those practices, amplified in both legislative recommendations and positive law, were distinctly negative to the idea of a commemorative coin.[272]

What this ignored, however, is that the Treasury Department was largely responsible for the views held by the respective Congressional committees with jurisdiction over the commemorative coinage proposals — the House Banking and Currency Committee and the Senate Committee on Banking, Housing and Urban Affairs. Similarly, the veto messages of commemorative coin bills by the various presidents since Herbert Hoover — all nearly identical in content — were apparently drafted by the Treasury Department's office of legal counsel.[273]

[267] Ibid., pp. 56-57.

[268] Ibid., p. 57. The distinction between the role of the government participants in the panel, and those representing the private sector, is subtle, significant and distinctive. Mrs. Brooks, in her capactity as Mint Director, was able to represent only the official position of the Treasury Department-Bureau of the Mint. Her own views on bicentennial coinage, communicated in numerous interviews with the author since 1970, was distinctly favorable. She worked privately behind the scenes to affect a policy shift.

[269] Ibid., p. 57.

[270] Ibid., pp. 57-58.

[271] Ibid., p. 59.

[272] "The Treasury Department has for many years opposed the issuance of commemorative coins," wrote Mint Director Eva B. Adams in a March 20, 1967, letter to Rep. Herbert Tenzer (D-N.Y.) (carbon copy), and by way of explanation, attached a sixteen page statement titled "Commemorative Coins," (May 1963, BM-7 publication).

[273] "The principal objection to commemorative coins is that they detract from the fundamental function of the coinage as a medium of exchange. Multiplicity of designs on U.S. coins would tend to create confusion among the public, and to facilitate counterfeiting." From the veto message of Feb. 3, 1954 (President Eisenhower) which did not approve H.R. 1917, a bill to authorize a 50 cent commemorative piece for the 150th anniversary of the Louisiana Purchase. Containing the identical phrase: Feb. 3, 1954 (Eisenhower veto of New York City tercentennial 50 cent piece), Feb. 3, 1954 (Eisenhower veto of Northampton, Mass. tercentennial 50 cent piece), and similar wording in veto messages of Presidents Truman (May 4, 1948; July 31, 1947), Roosevelt ▸

It is difficult to deny some of the basic objections to commemorative coinage based on past experience; there were abuses of the striking, excessive profits by some, and other actions that were the antithesis of the mint's function of circulating coinage.[274] Nonetheless, the Coins and Medals Advisory Panel felt that the times had sufficiently changed that these abuses could be curtailed, particularly if the U.S. Mint were to handle distribution and sales.[275]

Every Congressman is an Artist

There were other problems that were more fundamental to successfully introducing bicentennial coinage. Authorization of designs for the new coin or coins (depending on what Congress might decide) proved to be a stumbling block. As Ralph Menconi, a panel member and noted sculptor in the medallic field explained: "Every congressman... is an artist.... Going with three coins may be insolvable. You need two Michelangelos and a Boticelli."[276] Based on prior design change proposals, the assessment was probably a correct on.[277]

Searching for a solution, John Jay Pittman suggested that a national design competition be employed, with the winning entries thereafter used for bicentennial coinage designs.[278] His proposal was not specific, but it would not be forgotten.[279]

Concern for the future of PNC's and the medal issue then intruded into the panel's agenda.[280] It remained for nearly a year before the Treasury finally agreed to work on legislation for bicentennial coinage. The process of changing the formal position of the Treasury and the Bureau of the Mint was a slow one, and took most of 1972. In no small measure, Mint Director Mary T. Brooks deserves a large portion of the credit for the position change that evolved.[281]

Throughtout the spring and then the summer, Mrs. Brooks worked hard on the bicentennial coin proposal. The resignation of Treasury Secretary Connally and the appointment of George P. Shultz as his successor undoubtedly (June 30, 1938) and Hoover (Apr. 21, 1930), collected in Commemorative Medals and Coins Legislation, Hearing before the Subcommittee on Consumer Affairs of the Committee on Banking and Currency, House of Representatives, 88th Cong., 1st sess. (May 20, 1963), pp. 46-50.

[274]Striking abuses, which basically constituted the Bureau of the Mint's manufacturing of commemorative coinage long after the intended year of issue, was ended by the Act of Aug. 5, 1939, 53 Stat. 1209, 31 U.S.C.A. § 376a. This had the effect of repealing 31 U.S.C.A. §§ 377-388o (commemorative coinage authorizations), and prohibiting all subsequent strikings of those authorized designs. See, also, the illustrative report of the Committee of Coinage, Weights and Measures [H.R.Rept.No.101,76thCong.,1st sess.(1939)] for an overview of the problems and abuses of commemorative coinage. Some general indication of the problem may be found in Annual Report of the Director of the Mint for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1937, cited hereinafter as Annual Mint Report (1937), pp. 6-7, wherein it shows the Mint made sixteen different commemorative half dollars during fiscal year 1937.

[275]It must be remembered that by 1972, the government had, or was about to, engage in the following direct sales campaigns of numismatic items: proof sets, mint sets, proof Eisenhower silver dollars, uncirculated Eisenhower silver dollars, Carson City silver dollars, mint medals, "mini" medals, "penny bags," and holders for the various coins. The PNC's are not included, nor are the ARBC medals, though they of course are now part of the list, along with the extensive offerings for bicentennial coinage.

[281]Much of this information has no previously published basis for record. Heavily relied upon for this conclusion are interviews conducted throughout 1972, 1973 and 1974 with the various participants, including Mrs. Brooks. The 1972 and 1973 interviews were conducted in my capacity as Washington correspondent for Numismatic News Weekly. Some of the observations were published in my weekly "Under the Glass" column in NNW, others are part of my notes from the interviews. See one published account in "Striking Bicentenial Coins: Almost It Did Not Take Place," NNW (Oct. 23,1973) pp. 28, 37. This is amplified in "Credit for Bicentennial Coins Goes to Mint Director Brooks," NNW (Feb.5, 1974); pp. 20,42. See also Logan [Ganz], "1976 Coins," 9 COINage (Oct.,1973) 46, 47, for an overview of Mrs. Brooks' actions up to that time.

speeded the process, for after Shultz took the oath of office on June 12, 1972, the course of events began to advance rapidly.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Brooks lobbied hard for support on Capitol Hill. With the bicentennial year still some forty-eight months away, and with the presidential election campaign of 1972 in full gear, most of the members just did not want to listen. Some did, however, and various proposals were tossed about, including a gold bicentennial coin.[282] Mrs. Brooks herself at one point spoke of a gold bicentennial piece or a copper half cent.[283]

Overall, there must have been a feeling of frustration on the part of the mint director, for after months of discussion with Secretary Connally, he left office. Then the painstaking process of educating another Treasury chief to the entire bicentennial schematic had to once again be undertaken. Mrs. Brooks did not shirk from this responsibility; rather, she welcomed it.

Publicity for the bicentennial program had been sparse, though public reception to the PNC's and medallic issues apparently was satisfactory. Coinage proposals, even among panel members, remained at the same state they had been at for more than two years — nebulous and lacking concrete substance.

On November 3, 1972, vice chairman Margo Russell wrote to Dr. Lynn Carroll, deputy executive director of the ARBC, about the medals program. In passing, she made some comments about coinage. While noting that a gold medal might be "intriguing, perhaps for presentation and museum pieces in 1976," she indicated that she could not support it "at the risk of endangering chances for a meaningful gold coin."[284]

In the same letter, Mrs. Russell also broached the possibility of an, "open (wide open to the public) or semi-open (to professional sculptors) [competition]... in 1976 for both the coinage and medals...."[285] She also noted in passing that,

> Eric [P. Newman, panel chairman] volunteered to have an informal conversation with Congresswoman Leonor Sullivan in St. Louis regarding our program. She has publicly stated she is in favor of Bicentennial commemorative coinage. He will report on this, I am certain....[286]

[282]On April 8, 1972, Senator Mark O. Hatfield, Republican of Oregon, proposed an official gold coin for the Bicentennial. He did so in a conversation with this writer at his Washington office; see Ganz, "Unshackled Gold Reserves Could be Used in Centennial Coin," NNW [UTG] (May 16, 1972); pp. 10, 13. This subsequently was translated into legislation as S. 422, 93d Cong., 1st sess. (Jan. 18, 1973) ($25 gold piece). While it did not become law, it nearly did as a result of one of the real controversies of the bicentennial program. See infra (main text) for details.

[283]The half cent proposal is discussed in Ganz, "Revival of U.S. Half Cent Seen as Consumer Boon," NNW [UTG] (June 13, 1972), p. 8. On a gold bicentennial piece, Mrs. Brooks' views are noted in Ganz, "Striking Bicentennial Coins: Almost It Did Not Take Place," NNW [UTG] (Oct. 23, 1973). Her actual remarks were made in a May 8, 1972 interview held in her Washington office. Present that day, in addition to the author and Mrs. Brooks, was Roy C. Cahoon, Assistant Director of the Mint for Public Services. An unofficial transcript of the conversation that day, made form my notes, reads as follows:

Mr. GANZ. What would you think about a gold commemorative for the Bicentennial?

Mrs. BROOKS. I'd love to strike a gold bicentennial coin. No more wonderful way could be found to commemorate our Bicentennial than with a gold coin.

Mr. GANZ. Would there be a production problem with such a coin?

Mrs. BROOKS. We'd have to go into that later. [Unofficial transcript, p. 1]. On the day following the interview, the price of gold jumped on the international bullion market to approximately $44 an ounce, then considered extremely high (the official value was still $35 an ounce). Because it was felt that her remarks might unduly prejudice the bullion market, Mrs. Brooks requested that she not be quoted as to the desirability of a gold coin. The request was honored, and a story prepared by the author, in his capacity as Washington correspondent for Numismatic News, was "killed."

The interdiction against use (voluntarily assumed by the author) was lifted after publication of a similar remark, made Aug. 19, 1972, by Mrs. Brooks to Russell Rulau, then editor of Numismatic Scrapbook Magazine. Complete text of this is found in "Mrs. Brooks, Speaks Freely to Editor," 38 Num. Scrapbook (1972), 826.

1973 Advisory Panel Meeting

Meanwhile, the Advisory Panel was getting ready for its annual meeting. It was scheduled for January 12, 1973, a Friday. Good signs apparently were blowing in the wind for the coinage aspect of the Bicentennial. On January 4, 1973, Rep. Wright Patman, Democrat of Texas, chairman of the House Banking and Currency Committee, made favorable mention of bicentennial coinage. Previously, he had either been opposed or non-committal to proposals. In a weekly letter to his constituents, Patman said that his committee would "consider legislation for a new coin to be placed in circulation with an appropriate design symbolizing the origin and history of our great nation."[287]

Most of the January 12 meeting was devoted to PNC's, medallic issues and the possibility of a silver commemorative medal.[288] In the morning session, though the agenda did not schedule it, some mention was made, casually, about a silver bicentennial coin.[289] Representatives of the nation's silver users indicated their opposition to it, unless the precious metal came from the hoard previous reserved for the production of silver Eisenhower dollars.[290] Even in that event, a strong recommendation was made by a spokesman for Engelhard Industries that a silver-clad piece be used instead of a conventional, non-clad silver coin.[291]

Renewed, also, was talk of a fractional currency issue for the Bicentennial. Herbert Bergen, a panel member and former ANA president, spoke out forcefully in favor of such a move.[292] James A. Conlon, director of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, while indicating he saw no real objection to it, did make a long and realistic response concerning the likelihood of such an issue.[293] John Jay Pittman then brought up the possibility of a $2 bill.[294]

Substantively, coin issues for the Bicentennial were scheduled to be the topic of the afternoon's agenda. In fact, it figured very little in the overall discussion. Nonetheless, the discussion that occurred was among the most candid to date.

"Our next necessity is to have a report from the Director of the Mint as to the possibilities with respect to the striking of United States coins," chairman Eric P. Newman said. "You will recall that our committee recommended a design change for all denominations. That was a rather elaborate request and... the Treasury Department was in opposition to that...."[295]

Newman then proceeded to summarize the current status of the bicentennial coin proposals as he, and the panel, were aware of them. In part, he said that the Treasury had indicated the call for complete change "wasn't feasible or practical and we nevertheless determined that that would be a fine thing to do."[296]

"So," his introduction concluded, "now we get down to the practical. They said what they thought; we have said what we like; now we can discuss the matter as to how we can proceed."[297]

Mrs. Brooks was the first to respond, noting with evident good humor that she "was about as popular as Typhoid

Mary by the time I got through reading my paper" at the 1970 hearings.[298]

An Electrifying Announcement

Then, she made an electrifying announcement. Although she had told the panel members "to go to work and try to get legislation through,"[299] Mrs. Brooks had in fact done a great deal of work on her own.[300] "I cannot tell you what has happened," she explained, "because the negotiations are at a very, very delicate stage."[301]

Continuing, she told the panel that, "I must swear you all to secrecy, or it may blow up in our faces, but there is some progress. Further than that, I am sorry, I cannot tell you at this point, today. Two weeks from now, it may be that we can talk about that. But I have made some progress."[302]

"That is a very short report," Mrs. Brooks concluded, "but it does give you a little hope."[303]

"I think we have to be careful," Eric Newman warned. "We can't reflect this optimism that Mrs. Brooks shows. I think this is part of the condition that we can't even say that he is encouraged or optimistic about what can be done or that we will be pleased by virtue of what is done."[304] Interrupted Mrs. Brooks, "I have to swear you to complete secrecy on this,"[305] to which Newman responded, "We are in complete silence."[306] Several of the other panel members made mild inquiries, but apparently accepted the mint director's word that the desired end product was nearly at hand. Discussion again turned to PNC's and silver medals, and when the meeting adjourned at 4:35 p.m., the panel members were no longer "blue" in spirits, which was the way Eric Newman had described them less than half an hour earlier.[307]

The warning of secrecy stood. Press reports of the meeting mentioned bicentennial coins ever-so-casually. Numismatic News Weekly merely said at the very end of a long article that "the agenda for the afternoon session called for presentations on bicentennial coin possibilities by Mrs. Brooks...."[308] Coin World covered the session by concentrating on silver medal possibilities and marketing data.[309] Security was not breached.

Reason for the secrecy has yet to be published. It may now be said that at that point, Mrs. Brooks had succeeded in persuading the Treasury Secretary to sponsor a bicentennial coinage proposal. This basic idea was then turned over to the Executive Office of the President (Office of Management and Budget) for preliminary steps necessary before a draft bill could be drawn and sent to Capitol Hill.

William V. Skidmore of the OMB Legislative Reference staff signed a January 31, 1973, "Legislative Referral Memorandum" to both legislative liason officers at the ARBC and the Fine Arts Commission. The subject was the Treasury's draft bill, "To provide a new coinage design and date emblematic of the bicentennial of the American Revolution for dollars and half-dollars."[310] A response within thirty days was requested.

[310] Tentative title of the bill as cited in the "Legislative Referral Memorandum," Office of Management and Budget (Jan. 31, 1973) (copy on file at ARBC, Washington, D.C.). Request for comments from various affected administrative agencies is standard practice. The power of OMB, at least during the Nixon Administration, was that failure to secure OMB approval meant that no legislative proposal became a draft bill for forwarding to Congress.

Congress Takes New Initiative

While all this was going on, the newly formed 93rd Congress was called to order. Senator Hatfield opened the new session with a bill calling for the striking of up to sixty million gold coins, while Representative White of Texas introduced legislation calling for commemorative bicentennial 50 cent pieces or dollars.[311] For the most part, however, the bicentennial coinage matter was ignored by the new Congress.

Responding to the OMB request, Hugh A. Hall, acting director of the ARBC made some recommendations. In a February 7, 1973, letter to Wilfred H. Rommell, assistant director for legislative reference, he noted that the ARBC "supports the objectives of the draft bill."[312] He did, however, suggest minor changes in the proposed letter transmiting the draft bill to Congress.[313] Without exception, they were ignored in their entirety.

Legislation Formally Requested by Treasury

On March 5, 1973, a draft bill drawn up carefully by the Treasury's legal counsel, accompanied by a covering letter written by Treasury Secretary Shultz,[314] was sent to Capitol Hill. The bill provided that, > the reverse side of all dollars and half-dollars minted for issuance on or after July 4, 1975 and until such time as the Secretary of the Treasury may determine shall bear a design determined by the Secretary to be emblematic of

[313] Ibid. The proposed changes, set forth in the following note, basically were designed to strengthen the bureaucratic hand of the ARBC. For example, Hall recommended that in the transmittal letter, Congress be told that, "As you know, the American Revolution Bicentennial Commission was established to plan, encourage, develop and coordinate the commemoration of the American Revolution Bicentennial. The legislation which established the commission... specifically provided for... issuance of commemorative medals and coins...." (p. 1). Additionally, the recommended tone was that the Treasury Secretary had relied on the Commission's expertise and their recommendations. None of this was adopted in the Treasury letter, the text of which (in full) is set forth infra.

[314] The text of the Shultz letter, addressed to the President of the Senate and Speaker of the House (March 5, 1973) is as follows:

> There is transmitted herewith a draft bill, "To provide a new coinage design and date emblematic of the bicentennial of the American Revolution for dollars and half-dollars."
> The Department believes it would be highly appropriate and desirable to recognize the bicentennial of the birth of the United States on its coinage and the proposed legislation is designed to accomplish that purpose.
> The proposed legislation would authorize the Secretary of the Treasury to choose new designs emblematic of the bicentennial of the American Revolution for the reverse sides of the dollar and half dollar for 1976. Use of the new designs would continue for such subsequent years as the Secretary may determine. It would also authorize the Secretary to add a date emblematic of the bicentennial in addition to the date of coinage for such dollars and half dollars. Specifically, dollars and half-dollars for 1976 would bear "1776-1976". The 1976 dollars and half dollars would be first released to the public on July 4, 1975, through the nation's banks, at face value, in order to promote the coming bicentennial year. In 1976, proof and uncirculated specimens would also be made available under the Mint's four special coins programs.
> Although the dollar and half-dollar are circulating coins, neither coin enjoys wide circulation and use as compared to the one cent piece, nickel, dime and quarter. Thus, it is believed that the reverse design of the dollar and half-dollar could be changed in honor of the nation's 200th birthday without seriously disrupting the Mint's regular production capacity and without causing a shortage of circulating coins due to hoarding and profiteering. The design changes would not strain the Mint's production capacity and the lack of wide circulation of the coins would not be disruptive in the daily commerce of the country.
> Because of the historical importance of the new designs, the Treasury Department plans to request the National Sculpture Society to conduct a design contest among its nationwide membership and empanel a jury of experts to judge the entries and submit several of the designs so chosen for each coin to the Secretary of the Treasury. Paramount considerations in the judging would be the beauty and historical significance of the designs, taking into account the Mint's special technical and mechanical operations.
> The final selection of the designs will be made by the Secretary of the Treasury on recommendations from a committee composed of the Director of the Mint; the Chairman of the Senate Committee on Banking...; the Chairman of the House Committee on Banking and Currency; the Chairman of the Advisory [Panel] Committee on Coins and Medals of the American Revolution Bicentennial Commission; and the Fine Arts Commission....

the bicentennial of the American Revolution.

Sec. 2. All dollars and half-dollars minted for issuance between July 4, 1975 and January 1, 1977 shall bear "1776-1976" in lieu of the date of coinage; and all dollars and half dollars minted thereafter until such time as the Secretary of the Treasury may determine shall bear a date emblematic of the bicentennial in addition to the date of coinage.[315].

By way of explaining the bill's importance, Mint Director Brooks noted that the "proposed change marks the first time in our nation's history that designs on circulating coins would be changed honoring an anniversary of American freedom."[316] In the Mint's initial plannings, cupro-nickel clad bicentennial dollars and half dollars would be struck for circulation, proof and uncirculated sets containing the coins would be released to collectors, and purchasers of Eisenhower silver dollars in uncirculated and proof conditions would similarly be able to acquire the bicentennial coins, but from a 40 per cent silver-clad base.[317]

In retrospect, it seems likely that the Treasury Department and the Bureau of the Mint felt that the bicentennial coinage proposal would sail through both houses of Congress and become law in short order, exactly as presented. The press certainly seemed to think so,[318] despite some critical comments about the proposals.[319] Perhaps even Congress initially thought prompt action was called for; Rep. Patman wrote to his constituents that, "1976 should be a year when all Americans close ranks in recognition of their unique heritage. Appropriate designs on our coinage are a small reminder of the courage and beliefs that made these States a Nation United."[320] Quick passage, however, was simply not in the cards. Ralph Menconi, the late sculptor, was correct: every Congressman is an artist.[321]

Congressional Critics

A survey of viewpoints showed that while most agreed the bicentennial coinage was desirable, few had the same idea as to how 200 years of freedom should be commemorated. Senator Peter H. Dominick, Republican of Colorado, said he would rather "go with a separate coin than with those two reverses. I object to it as it stands now."[322] Senator James A. McClure, Republican of Idaho, also had reservations. "I find the bill objectionable," he commented in an interview. "Why go half way and change only one side of the coin?" He also indicated support for a gold bicentennial piece.[323]

Mrs. Sullivan, who continued to chair the Subcommittee on Consumer Affairs (and thus maintained jurisdiction over the coinage proposal) said she was "not wedded to any bill," and would await hearings.[324] Representative Steve Symms, Republican of Idaho, said he could "not support the bill as it stands now. We need to honor America on her 200th birthday with memorials that have value and economic integrity. Right now the Treasury is proposing to re-issue old clad designs with new reverses and double-dating. It's a penny-ante approach which Americans will regret for the next 100 years."[325]

Other influential members of Congress had similar differing opinions on the merits of the Treasury's bicentennial coinage proposals. Senator John Sparkman, Democrat of Alabama, then chairman of the Senate Banking, Housing and Urban Affairs Committee, said he would have to be "very much persuaded from what the Treasury and Mint recommends."[326] Senator John Tower, Republican of Texas and ranking minority member on the Banking Committee, said he had a "wait and see" attitude."[327] Senator Mark O. Hatfield, Republican of Oregon, said he was "not impressed with the quality of current coinage. It is not sufficient to bear the full bicentennial celebration. The coinage in the mint proposal is not sufficient in either design or composition."[328]

Hatfield then went on to say that "a more appropriate celebration would be with gold coins," and concluded by saying that he had "no support for a second rate piece of coinage... I am not proud of American coinage," he said bluntly.[329]

Along the same lines, Senator James A. McClure, Republican of Idaho, said that his feeling was "why not commemorate the bicentennial in a manner that the nation did itself — in gold and silver. It would be very inappropriate commemoration to use clad material that was not accepted at the time the nation was founded."[330]

Senator Hubert H. Humphrey, Democrat of Minnesota and former Vice President of the United States, had some different thoughts. "A preferable alternative would be a commemorative coin," he said.[331] "Most of us view money as a necessary evil.... Coins are not only a medium of exchange, they are works of art in miniature and ubiquitous reminders of our country's heritage...."[332]

In and of themselves, these individual views might seem unimportant. Because they were held by the nation's legislators, however, they became of paramount import. The reason was plain: these views ran distinctively counter to the official proposals, and each of the spokesmen were capable of trying to implement their own ideas. That, in fact, is precisely what happened.

Congress recessed for Easter on April 18, 1973, and no action had yet been taken on the bicentennial coinage legislation. Charles B. Holstein, professional staff member of the Consumer Affairs Subcommittee of the House Banking and Currency Committee, indicated that hearings had been tentatively scheduled for early May — a condition subject to change based on other legislative commitments of the new Congress. In the meanwhile, other events began to intrude into the Bicentennial.

The dollar was devalued for the second time in as many years. Means of effecting the change was a raising of the official price of gold from $38 to $42.22 an ounce.[333] Some members of Congress took the opportunity to press for the simultaneous raising of the price of gold, and the lifting of barriers to its private ownership, banned since the administration of Franklin Roosevelt. They failed,[334] but the topics of private gold ownership, gold coins, and bicentennial coinage were to meet again head on, and the result was that bicentennial coinage proposals were almost shelved in their entirety by one house. In the other, the Senate, it brought about one of the most dramatic confrontations in recent legislative history.

1973 House Coinage Hearings

Hearings before the Subcommittee on Consumer Affairs were scheduled for May 2 and 3, 1973. Topics of discussion included not only bicentennial coinage, but grants to Eisenhower College from coinage receipts, commemorative medal issues and, for the first time in a decade, commemorative coinage.[335]

"The Treasury has been anxious to get started on plans for marking the bicentennial of our Nation's birth with appropriate changes in coinage designs so that... the mint will be able to produce in time to mark our great birthday," Represenative Leonor K. Sullivan, the chairman, said to the crowded hearing room.[336]

The order of presentation called for Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Edward L. Morgan to introduce Mint Director Brooks. This he did, making two key points in the process: that it was desirable to commemorate the Bicentennial on our national coinage, but that "high volume coins" such as the cent, nickel, dime and quarter should not be used because a coin shortage could result.[337]

Mrs. Brooks, accompanied by Roy C. Cahoon, assistant director of the mint for special services, then made her presentation, reading carefully from a prepared text. "I believe we all want to do everything we can to recognize and honor the 200th birthday of American freedom," she intoned, adding it was "indeed an auspicious occasion for our Nation, and our people, and changing the designs on the reverses of the circulating dollar, and half dollar would bear visual witness to the enduring qualities of our form of government."[338]

Noting that she had served on the ARBC Advisory Panel on Coins and Medals, Mrs. Brooks then went on to say that "we would oppose... a change... [in] the designs of all our coins to commemorate the bicentennial."[339] The closeness in proximity with which the two were linked created the erroneous impression that the bicentennial panel did not favor an across-the-board change. In fact, while the advisory panel had considered making a new proposal, it never changed its original recommendation for complete change.[340]

Never Whether but How

Following Mrs. Brooks to the witness table was Hugh A. Hall, acting director of the ARBC who was intimately acquainted with the entire schematic of the numismatic aspects of the program. Hall began his testimony impressively, stating that "the question has never been 'whether', but 'how' the coin-of-the-realm should reflect the spirit of an occasion which marks two centuries of American independence and liberty."[341]

"I would be less than candid... not to note that the original position of the ARBC favored the redesign in honor of the bicentennial of all U.S. coins as well as a special coin of unique design for 1976," Hall continued.[342] He then submitted for the record (but did not read aloud) a series of summaries of the Advisory Panel's recommendations and votes.[343]

Hall then dropped his bombshell. Speaking for the ARBC, and presumably for the Coins and Medals Panel, he not only indicated support for the Administration bill but noted that "we have been impressed by... concern for the severe strain which a wholesale change in the design of U.S. coinage would place on the production capacity of the U.S. Mint."[344]

[340] At the Jan. 12, 1973 meeting, after Mrs. Brooks's announcement, Henry Grunthal suggested that the bicentennial advisory panel change its recommendations. "I might be completely out of order, but I remember that this panel went on record that we wanted all denominations changed for the event. Now, wouldn't it be better if we asked Mrs. Brooks to try at least just for one denomination." 1973 Advisory Transcript, p. 137. The proposal was ignored because of negotiations then under way.

"We are satisfied that many of our original goals of public exposure and artistic quality can be realized in a combined program as envisaged under H.R. 5244," Hall continued.[345] Calling it an "optional solution... to the need for commemorative coinage and the responsibilities of the U.S. Mint to maintain a stable supply of circulating coinage," Hall concluded by saying that "the ARBC looks forward to the early passage" of the legislation.[346]

Questioning of Mrs. Brooks followed the joint presentation, but it was hardly vigorous. For the most part, the members of the House on the subcommittee were apparently satisfied with the Administration proposal.

ANA Judges Familiarization and Certification Program

Established in 1972, implemented at the 1973 Convention in Boston, and continued at the 1974 convention in Bal Harbour, the Judges Familiarization and Certification Program (JFCP) is intended to establish a nation-wide body of fully trained and competent judges for the annual ANA conventions. Ultimately it is expected that such certified judges will be available for regional, state and local shows and conventions.

The JFCP will again be offered at this year's convention in Los Angeles. Those desirous of enrolling — whether they have prior experience or not — are encouraged to submit their names, along with an indication of the exhibit classification(s) in which enrollment is sought, to the ANA Executive Director by July 15, if possible.

Advanced registration for the program is helpful but not mandatory. All that is required is interest. Visitors at the two JFCP meetings which will be scheduled in the convention program will be accepted as enrollees, subject to space limitations.

Board Meeting

SUMMARY REPORT

The ANA board recently held its first meeting of 1975 at the new Four Seasons Motor Inn in Colorado Springs with the following members in attendance: Virginia Culver, president; George Hatie, vice-president; and governors Eva Adams, Maurice Gould, Kenneth Hallenbeck Jr., Eldridge Jones, John Pittman, Glenn Smedley, and Adna Wilde Jr. Others in attendance were: Edward Rochette, executive director, and his assistant, Arthur Fitts III; Richard Dusterberg, legal counsel; William Henderson, treasurer; and Neil Harris, editor. The board found accomodations at the new Inn very satisfactory, and especially appreciated the transportation of its members to and from ANA headquarters.

Budget

The board adopted the finance committee's revised budget for 1974-75 that estimates a net increase in income of $20,930 over the budget adopted last August and a net increase in expenditures of $32,975. The major item of increased income is $17,000 in advertising revenue, while printing and mailing are the major increased costs. The result is that the new budget for fiscal year 1974-75 shows a net deficit of $17,095 for our operations, which does not include the cost of the new museum section or the convention account.

With this probability of a deficit by the May 31 year end, and the prospects of further increases in costs next year, the board felt that it had no alternative to raising dues so as to avoid curtailment of activities and member services. For those applying for membership after May 31, the annual dues for regular members in the U.S., Canada, and Mexico will be $12.00; for those in other countries (due largely to higher postal costs), $15.00; junior members (11 to 17 years of age), $9.00; clubs (wherever located), $15.00; and life memberships, $250.00.

Associate member dues of $2.00 remain unchanged, as does the $5.00 one-time-only application fee for regular and club memberships. These new dues rates and further details of the necessity for them were published on page 567 of the March issue.

To be consistent with the new dues for memberships outside North America, and for the same reason, the subscription rate for The Numismatist to overseas subscribers was increased to $15.00, effective with renewals and new subscriptions received after May 31.

Each month a number of copies of The Numismatist are returned to headquarters by the Postal Service (at the cost of 40¢ each), usually because members have moved without notifying us of their new address or because they haven't notified us of the change far enough in advance. In some cases the member's post office notes the new address on the covering envelope but still returns the magazine because second class mail is not forwardable. This situation is costing the Association thousands of dollars each year in extra postage, including the remailing of single copies when the new addresses are furnished by the post office or the members. The board ruled that copies of the magazine so returned because of members' failure to supply proper addresses will be remailed to only those who request it. Notice to this effect was published on page 573 of the March issue.

Publications

It being time to negotiate a new contract for printing of The Numismatist, the board authorized the editor, the executive director, and the chairman of the publications committee to sign a contract with the printer that, in their opinion, offered the best agreement and seemed capable of the best performance. (Just before press time a contract was signed with a printer in Denver that can fulfill our requirements. There will be very little difference in costs as compared with our present Milwaukee printer, but we feel that the proximity of Denver to our headquarters offers advantages and will facilitate closer cooperation between editor and printer. The May issue is to be the first one printed in Denver.)

The numismatic terms committee reported a number of proposed additions to our "Dictionary of Numismatic Terms" booklet. The board approved the changes and the incorporation of them in a new printing of the "Dictionary."

Conventions

Minor changes in the convention exhibit rules were approved, to be effective for the 1975 convention. Copies of the revised rules and other information regarding exhibits may be obtained from C. Paul Newell, 8043 Fairchild Ave., Canoga Park, CA 91306.

The low bid of the Medallic Art Company for production of the 1975 convention medal and badge, based on the medal committee's designs, was approved. The suggestion that a competition be held for the designs for the 1976 convention medal was discussed and approved. Competition will be limited to members of ANA, and $500 will be awarded to the member submitting the winning designs. Judges will be from among recipients of the ANA Outstanding Sculptor of the Year Awards.

In connection with the 1976 convention to be held in New York City, Morris Bram was appointed honorary general chairman, Jackson Storm chairman, and Vincent Alones and Eugene Schmid were made assistant chairmen. For the 1978 convention in Houston, the board approved the dates of August 20-27. The Astro World Hotel and these dates are subject to the executive director being able to negotiate a satisfactory contract with the hotel.

Nominations

A minor amendment was made to the bylaws to provide for including with the ballots for the election of officers a copy of the biographical sketch and photo of each candidate as published in the June issue of The Numismatist. It was felt that such information will be helpful to members when casting their votes in the election.

Awards

"Top Recruiter Awards" for those signing up the most new ANA members during each calendar year, beginning with 1975, were approved. One award is to go to an individual member who is not connected with a commercial firm, and the other will be given the top recruiter among member coin dealers. To be counted in the contest for awards, the sponsors' signatures must be handwritten. The award will be sponsored by Carlton W. Grayson, LM 1545, of Fairmount, Indiana, and the first award will be announced and publicized in connection with the 1976 National Coin Week.

Sidney Smith's offer of $1,000 to fund the United States Paper Money Exhibit Award at the annual convention was accepted. There had been no fund to cover this award for several years, and recent ones had been paid for by the Association.

The board accepted the offer of Leonard Leitner, a 14-year member in Providence, R. I., to sponsor a number of junior memberships in ANA. It was agreed that member clubs should propose one junior each, up to the limit of funds available, to qualify for these memberships. Further details will be worked out and announced soon.

"Grading Board"

The report of the committee formed to study the feasibility of a "Grading Board" was heard and discussed at length. It was agreed that the same committee be empowered to work out details and submit final plans to the board. While there have been numerous expressions as to the need for a grading board, there are diverse opinions as to how it should function. The board hopes to formulate a plan that will be effective and agreeable to the majority of the membership.

Complaints

It must be reported, regrettably, that a number of complaints against members were reported by the complaints committee and acted upon by the board as a whole. Four new complaints resulted in a letter of censure being sent to a member coin club; and the expulsion of Mrs. Betty Roberts, R-71222, and Wardell Sandimanie (found to be a fictitious name), R-80306. A review of previous suspensions resulted in the reinstatement of David Katz, R-70072; and the expulsion of Tom C. Caldwell, LM-1318; Jerold Deets, R-60969, and George J. Lebonick, R-69194. Various other complaints were examined, most of which were continued for further investigation.

The matter of misinformation about the Association and the hobby in general being published in various publications was discussed. This arose mainly because of the article on the hobby in the December 15, 1974 issue of Forbes Magazine. The board went on record as "questioning the true motives and condemning the inaccuracies of the article."

Post Meeting Activity

Following the three day meeting, all members of the board attended the formal opening of the new museum at ANA headquarters and took part in the numismatic round table sponsored by the Association. Before leaving the area, board members attended the ceremonial striking of the first copies of the Colorado Centennial Medal in the Denver Mint. This is the only state medal authorized by Congress for issuance in connection with the nation's Bicentennial, and the first Congressional medal ever produced by the Denver Mint.

The events of these three post meeting days were reported in words and pictures in the March issue.

Springfield Massachusetts Issues Bicentennial Medal

A specially minted medal commemorating events in the early history of Springfield, Massachusetts has been issued by the Springfield Bicentennial Committee as part of the city's celebration of the nation's two hundredth birthday.

The 1-1/2 inch medal, the first in a series of four, was produced by The Hamilton Mint of Arlington Heights, Illinois.

It is available in .999 fine silver or in antique bronze and will be sold by the Bicentennial Committee and by four local banks. The Bicentennial Committee is located at 284 State Street, Springfield, Massachusetts 01105.

The silver version, priced at $100 each, will be numbered in a limited edition of 200. Two thousand antique bronze medal will also be offered at $3 each. The number one silver medallion was recently auctioned for over $600.

The obverse depicts the Pynchon Land Purchase of 1636 when William Pynchon, the city's founder, acquired the site of the original settlement from the local Indians. The reverse shows the Pynchon Fort, the city's first brick building, which served as a refuge for townspeople when the settlement was burned during an Indian raid in 1675.

Fake Indian Head $5 Gold Common In Many Dates

In 1908 the U.S. Mint introduced the Bela Lyon Pratt or "Indian Head" half eagle. A half century later several new issues of these coins appeared — not restrikes, but high quality counterfeits, struck on professional coining presses in small shops in Europe and the Near East, or cast in Southeast Asia and the East Indies.

ANACS has found counterfeits of twenty of the twenty-four dates and mintmarks in the series, and has seen counterfeit 1915-D $5 gold pieces (none were ever issued by the mint!) which entered the U.S. as early as 1962... probably from the Orient. All dates and mints of Indian Head half eagles have been received for authentication by ANACS.

The number of pieces of each date and mint received for authentication prior to January 1, 1975, and the number found to be genuine, are given in the table below:

Indian Head Half Eagles

*Percent genuine not given for coins of which less than eight received to date.

The collector who searches the list above to find "safe" dates to buy will be disappointed. The only dates for which ANACS has seen no counterfeits are 1909-O, 1914, 1915 and 1929. But not more than eight pieces of any of these dates have been examined, so the sample offered cannot be considered representative.

Collectors of San Francisco Mint half eagles run the gravest risk of acquiring counterfeits. One shop which has produced vast quantities of bogus gold coins seemingly has specialized in San Francisco half eagles; most false S-mint half eagles seen at ANACS have had characteristics of the same artisans.

Alterations of dates and mintmarks, and added mintmarks have not yet been seen in this series. Mutilated dates and mintmarks which can be inadvertently misread have been noted several times.

To inexperienced eyes, the milling on the edges of genuine and counterfeit half eagles usually appears to be almost identical. The weights and specific gravities of counterfeits usually are correct, but often counterfeits can be detected with fair accuracy by the color of the gold. This technique is somewhat unreliable, so ANACS does not use it as a conclusive means of authentication. The most reliable method requires intimate knowledge of the microscopic texture, detail and relief of the genuine specimens as compared with false pieces.

Then how do you, as a collector of Indian Head half eagles, protect yourself from acquiring counterfeits? First, buy from a well-established, reputable source who is experienced at buying and selling U.S. gold coins. Second, if possible, buy a coin whose pedigree is well known to you. For example, a U.S. gold coin which you have known to have been in a certain collection for twenty years is much more likely to be genuine than one whose background is not known to you.

Finally, have them authenticated by numismatists who have had extenisve experience examining and comparing genuine, counterfeit and altered coins. This service is offered by ANA's non-profit Certification Service, which authenticates and certifies genuine coins for a fee approximately equal to the costs involved. See the ANACS advertisement in this issue.

ANACS Questions and Answers

Q. I have a U.S. Large Cent which I believe to be a rare and valuable variety. May I send it to ANACS to have this confirmed?

A. ANACS would like to help in your case, but quite often the staff lacks the time to attribute coins. ANACS was created to authenticate coins, not to attribute (determine varieties) or appraise (determine values) them. Neither does ANACS grade coins (determine their condition).

Appraisal service is available from many coin dealers and appraisers. Creation of a coin grading service is under consideration by the ANA Board of Governors.

Q. I've sent several coins to ANACS for authentication since last fall. Each time one is returned, I send another. This is too time-consuming. Can I send you more than one coin in each package?

A. Yes, definitely. It is faster and more efficient to send shipments of two, ten or even a hundred coins at a time. Your postage costs are reduced dramatically, and ANACS can certify the important coins in your collection in only a small fraction of the time required when you send your coins one by one.

Genuine Mintmarks Added to Genuine Coins

Collectors about to buy 1892-S and 1893-S Morgan Dollars cannot always determine if the mintmarks have been added by examining the coins with a magnifying glass, warns ANACS Director Charles Hoskins. Genuine mintmarks are frequently cut from genuine Morgan Dollars of other dates and soldered onto Philadelphia Mint 1892 and 1893 dollars.

It is probable that the mintmarks are cut from the genuine coins with equipment normally found in laboratories and some tool and die shops. The cut is exceptionally clean and flat.

One photo printed here shows that the shape, style and detail of the mintmark are of mint quality. But the other photo, showing the right edge of the mintmark, shows the indented seam between the mintmark and the coin's field. Solder can be detected at this juncture with specialized electronic equipment.

Other dates, such as 1903-S and 1904-S, are known to have been created through this type of mintmark addition.

Some day someone is going to write a book titled "It Might Have Been," the story of how history could have been changed had so-and-so done such-and-such instead of thus-and-so.

For example, if during the 1916 U.S. presidential campaign Charles Evans Hughes had not ignored California's Hiram Johnson and thus possibly captured California electors instead of them going with Woodrow Wilson, would this country have been pulled into World War I?

And in 1903 when the British government offered to set up the autonomous state of Israel in British East Africa, how would the world's history have been changed if that plan had been effected?

That question is prompted by today's 21 mm gold coin, pictured below, of the present Middle East independent state of Israel.

With a coinage of only 10,000 pieces, that gold "20 Israeli pounds" is dated 1960, commemorating the birth on May 2, 1860 of Benjamin Ze'ev (Theodor) Herzl, born in Budapest. And, without Herzl, would there be an Israel today?

But who was Theodor Herzl? I went to that beautifully prepared book, "An Epic in Sculpture," by Robert Weber and Fred Bertram, of the Judaic Heritage Society.

In brief, Herzl, literary editor of Vienna's leading newspaper, the "Neue Freie Presse," published in 1894 "The Jewish State" which advocated restoration of a Jewish state in some part of the world yet to be selected. Three years later Herzl called a Jewish congress to meet in Basel, Switzerland. This was the first time in over 1,800 years that a Jewish congress representing almost the entire Diaspora (the "Dispersion" scattering Jews throughout the Old World following the Babylonian captivity) had been held to consider the Jewish future. In his diary Herzl wrote, "In Basel I founded the Jewish State and perhaps in five years, certainly in fifty years, everyone will see it." It did take fifty years.

Getting back to this pictured gold Israeli pound, the only trouble is that it's virgil hancock's featuring fakes

a counterfeit, and so well made that I had to call on West Orange's Carl Rosenblum to show me the difference between it and Carl's genuine specimen.

At the top of each of these pages you'll see more counterfeit gold ... two 100 Lire pieces of Italy. Seeing these, with a proof-like field, almost any collector and many a dealer would buy them ... not only would buy them but do buy them! One of these is dated 1883 of Umberto I, Friedberg 18. The other is the 1903 issue of Vittorio Emanuele III, Friedberg 22.

Your lesson for today, so far as any Italian gold pieces are concerned, is to insist on an ANACS certificate of genuineness with any specimen you want ot buy. No certificate, no sale! And no exceptions!

At the bottom of this page is one of probably hundreds of thousands of counterfeit gold soverigns of the British Empire which are floating around. This is a counterfeit of a 1928 South Africa job, but they've made fakes of all mints.

The latest I've seen in quantity are counterfeit Canadian sovereigns, first seen at the Cal Poly (Pomona, California) counterfeit detection seminar last September. One of the Cal Poly registrants had some fifty pieces, all well made cast fakes. Where he got them, I could not learn.

But then, six weeks ago, there occurred a "coals to Newcastle" incident.

Almost all the fake gold now in the USA has been imported into the USA. Yet, six weeks ago, one of our USA-West Coast lads exported 100 counterfeit Canadian gold sovereigns into Vancouver, British Columbia. The buyer, having attended last year's seminar at University of British Columbia, spotted them as counterfeits, called in the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, and the entire lot was confiscated. At least 100 counterfeit Canadian sovereigns now are out of the market!

Eddy Current Induction to The Rescue?

My mail brings inquiries about an instrument which just may be the answer to quickly separating genuine from fake silver or gold coins. I have two models of that Agaur instrument. I've sent one to Robert Kriz and his pals at Kennedy Space Center, Cape Canaveral, to get me some answers.

Right now I'm about ready to say that the instrument is ideal for testing coins of 25 mm diameter or less, if you have an on-the-nose master, genuine coin with which to align the instrument. (For example, a genuine USA $5 coin of exactly 0.900 fineness and exactly 8.3591 grams dry weight, not 0.901 nor 0.899 fineness, nor 8.3753 nor 8.3429 grams.) A further report next issue.

1975 Assay Commission Saturated with ANA Members

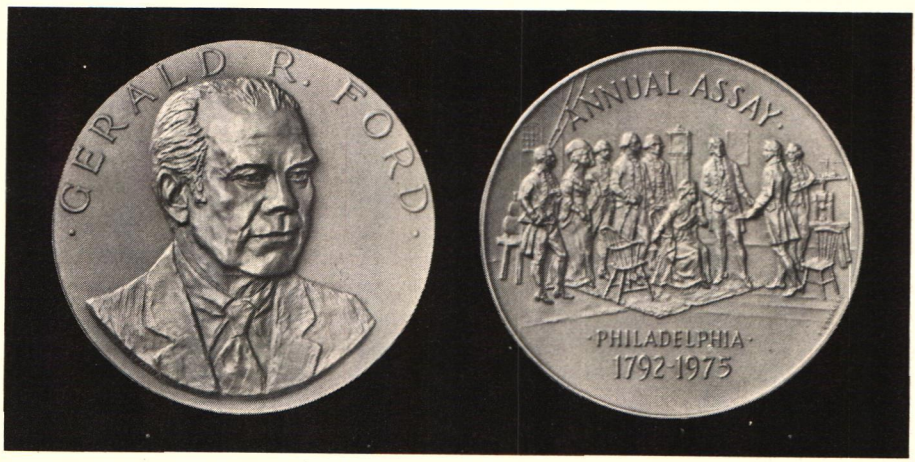

Twenty-five men and one woman were appointed to the 1975 Annual Assay Commission by President Ford ... twenty-three of these share a great interest in coins and the science of numismatics; they are members of the ANA.

The Commission began their work at 11:00 a.m. on Wednesday, February 12, 1975, for an all-day session at the United States Mint in Philadelphia. For probably the first time in history the director of the mint was not present for the historic affair. Mrs. Mary Brooks, confined by illness and her doctor's order, turned the hosting duties over to Deputy Director Frank H. MacDonald.

The meeting, an annual historical tradition said to have begun in 1792, was not officially recorded in the historical annals of the U.S. Mint until 1797. The practice was adopted to count, weigh, and assay a representative sample of the nation's coinage.

The Presidential appointees followed the ancient "Trial of the Pyx," a ceremony officially begun in England in the 13th century to discourage counterfeiting and bolster public confidence in all coins of the realm by requiring that they be struck in compliance with specific standards.

The 1975 Commission members, who served without compensation, tested a reserved selection of 1974 coins produced at the Philadelphia and Denver Mints and the San Francisco Assay Office for content and weight to determine whether these coins have been struck in accordance with weight and metal provisions of the law. As is usually the case, the commission found the nation's coinage in proper order.

Adna G. Wilde Jr. of Colorado Springs, Colorado, former executive director of the ANA and presently a member of the board of governors was selected by his fellow commissioners as chairman of the Commission. This is the first time since 1972 that a man has held this honor.

Two other ANA officials were also appointed to the Commission. George D. Hatie, Grosse Pointe Park, Michigan, current vice president of the ANA, served as the chairman of the committee on weighing and Arthur M. Fitts III, Colorado Springs, Colorado, assistant to the executive director of the ANA served on the committee on assaying.

Severe weather conditions greeted the commissioners upon their arrival in Philadelphia. By the end of the day, ten inches of snow had fallen during a winter storm and at 2:00 p.m. Nicholas Theodore, superintendent of the Mint, ordered the facility closed and sent employees home.

A resolution was drafted by the Commission commending the Director of the Mint for the operation of the facility and expressed regret of her illness and subsequent absence from the meeting. Quickly getting down to business the Commission divided themselves into committees to perform the days task.

Appointed chairman of the committee on assaying was Dr. Charles B. Stearns of Stone Mountain, Ga., F. Morton Reed, Wooster, Ohio, was co-chairman; William F. Krieg, Yeadon, Pa., chaired the committee on counting, with Charles F. Long, Charlottesville, Va., as co-chairman; and the committee on weighing was chaired by George D. Hatie, with Federico Claveria, Santa Barbara, Calif., serving as co-chairman.

Wanted: The Numismatist — May 1974

Due to unusual circumstances, we came up short on copies of the May, 1974, issues of The Numismatist. Any member who does not care to keep his copy would do the ANA library a favor by sending it in. Address to ANA Library, P. O. Box 2366, Colorado Springs, CO 80901, and mark "LIBRARY MATERIAL" clearly on the wrapper. Remember, this is the May, 1974, issue.

ANA Nominations Report

In answer to President Virginia Culver's Call for Nominations, published in the January issue, page 44, the following have been nominated as of February 28, 1975, for ANA offices for the 1975-1977 term.

Further nominations may be made by any member, including affiliated clubs, in good standing, prior to April 15, 1975, subject to current bylaws. Further reports shall be published in following editions through July.

Nominations shall be submitted in writing to the executive director. They will not be acknowledged, but the nominee will be notified upon securing the necessary number of nominations according the Article VI, Section 1, of the bylaws — at least five nominations from member clubs in good standing and at least five nominations from individual members in good standing. Club nominations must bear the signatures and addresses of at least two officers of the nominating club. No member may nominate himself nor nominate a number of candidates for any office in excess of the number to be elected thereto.

Any nominator may submit additional nominations, within the bylaw requirements, or withdraw any that were made previously, if this is done prior to April 15, 1975.

Election will be made by mail ballot only, and ballots will be mailed to each member about July 3, 1975. Each candidate's biographic sketch will be published in the June issue of The Numismatist and included with the ballots. The ballot envelope must be postmarked prior to July 20, 1975, in order for the ballot therein to be counted.

NATIONAL COIN WEEK ■ Monuments in Miniature

MONUMENTS IN MINIATURE is the winning slogan for National Coin Week, 1975. It came all the way from Hawaii and was the entry of Major Chester E. Hanson of the United States Marine Corps. He is currently serving with the Fleet Marine Force, the headquarters for the marines in the Pacific.

Hanson, ANA 79524, is the president of the Area Coin Club at Hickam Air Force Base, a large energetic group of 150 members with an excellent membership attendance. As a voting member of the Hawaiian State Numismatic Association, the winner actively participates in the state's activities and a rigorous program is planned for National Coin Week. It is certain to be enhanced because the winning slogan came from a Hawaiian collector.

Major Hanson stated, "I firmly believe, as my slogan suggests, that numismatics is not merely the act of collecting, rather it is to achieve the reward of knowledge and the satisfaction in discovering that coins are truly MONUMENTS IN MINIATURE. They each have a fascinating story to tell and the reward is there to be plucked by the individual who will take the time to discover it."

Major Chester E. Hanson

Last year, during our Golden Anniversary, we received more than 1800 applications for membership, which is a record for such a short period. While it will be difficult to top this figure, we hope to come close or even surpass it with the aid of all our ANA members. The professionals in the field have done an outstanding job in sending out applications and bringing in many new members through their advertising and publicity.

Certificates will be awarded to all members who sponsor a new member during the April 20-26th period, National Coin Week for 1975. Those individuals and clubs who promote NCW in a superior or exceedingly original manner which the NCW judges feel exposed the hobby to more non-collectors will recieve special recognition from the American Numismatic Association.

Suggestions for the week's activities include expanding club meetings, talks, and displays to include service groups (non-numismatic), churches, senior citizens' groups, temples, Y groups and schools. Many people are not aware of the far-reaching impact of the story of money and this week is the numismatist's opportunity to spread the word.

Clubs and individuals are asked to prepare reports of their activities and submit them to the ANA. Activities should be broken down into exhibits, publicity, numismatic talks, proclamations, new members, plus the original approaches the member took toward promoting the week. Remember the theme — MONUMENTS IN MINIATURE.

Guidelines for NCW, and ANA memberships applications, fliers and other promotional materials are available from ANA headquarters. Send your name and address to National Coin Week, American Numismatic Association, P.O. Box 2366, Colorado Springs, CO 80901.

museum directions

by Arthur M. Fitts III, Acting Curator

"On the 19th of April in '75,
Hardly a man is now alive
Who remembers that famous day and year...."

Few of us are not familiar with these opening lines of Longfellow's "Tale of Paul Revere's Ride," fewer still who are not thoroughly versed in the momentous events which precipitated and followed the midnight rides of Revere, John Dawes, and Dr. Samuel Prescott. Longfellow might be surprised, however, to learn that there are many who remember the fateful evening in 1775, people who annually make a pilgrimage along a portion of Estabrook Road, once the principal route from North Bridge to Concord. Following in the footsteps of Revere and the others, residents of Carlisle, Massachusetts retrace the route of 16 of their townsmen who, routed from their beds, went forth to defend their Liberty at "the rude bridge that arched the flood."

A pilgrimage it is and has been for some years. There is an interesting and timely series of medals struck annually for those who participate in this Estabrook Trail Walk. Silver and bronze medals have been issued since 1970 when the 195th anniversary was commemorated; there is a common obverse to each of these medals, with an historic reverse illustrating buildings along the route or the "Minute Men" themselves. While the 1000 silver pieces issued are sold, the bronze piece is struck in unlimited quantities and distributed to all who faithfully make the trek from Carlisle to the North Bridge each April 19. It is highly appropriate that the 1975 issue, commemorating the 200th anniversary of the event, will feature the famed bridge itself.

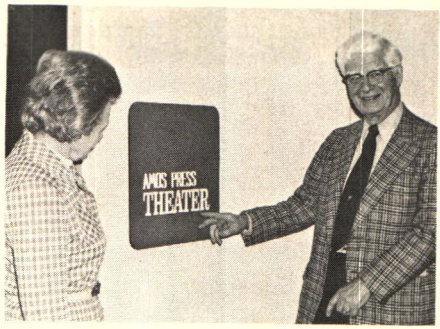

Closely associated with the Carlisle Colonial "Minute Men" is the series of medals produced for the Thunder Bridge Colonial Muster. Annual musters are modelled upon similar revolutionary exercises: competition in the use of smooth-bore weapons and tomahawk throwing is run among modern day "Minute Men" in colonial garb. Each of the medals illustrated a different weapon of the period. To the Carlisle Colonial "Minute Men" and Robert R. Heath we are greatful for the donation of these historically interesting medal sets.

One of the more popular display cases in the Modern Medallic Art Gallery of the museum is that in which Presidential Inaugural medals are shown. Here is the famous — or is it infamous? — Nixon-Agnew piece in silver. Clustered around it are those of President Gerald R. Ford in bronze, silver and gold. A gift of the Medallic Art Company of Danbury, Connecticut, the Ford pieces are but part of a larger donation. When fully displayed, it will include the plaster model of the obverse — the work of Miko Kaufman who also sculpted the 1973 "Tea Party" medals for the Boston convention — and an eight-piece progress set of the bronze specimen in which development and finishing of the die is clearly seen from blank planchet to the finished product. Of particular interest will be the handsome deluxe set of four Ford Inaugural medals: in antique bronze, antique silver, proof silver, and silver vermeil. Complementing the entire display will be Richard B. Dusterberg's definitive work on the subject, "The Official Inaugural Medals".

Several other recent Medallic Art Company issues have also been received by your museum. Among them are specimens of the bicentennial issues the firm is striking for several states, the Ford Vice-Presidential medal, the Pablo Casals, and the 1975 Holy Year pieces. Our gratitude goes to William T. Louth for this valuable support of your museum.

The list of concerned members who have generously provided display cases in the new museum galleries continues to grow. Swelling the ranks with pride are: ANA Governor Eva Adams and Mr. Scheetz, both of whom took time to enjoy the new galleries during the museum dedicatory program; and Mr. and Mrs. J. Oliver Amos, who made a special effort to visit and enjoy the theatre which bear's his name during recent travels through the Southwest. Thank you, all!

Jewish-American Hall of Fame Honors Lehman

The Jewish-American Hall of Fame series of medallic art has issued a sixth medal in their continuing series of Judiac subjects in honoring Herbert H. Lehman, Governor of New York (1932-41), Director General of the United Nation's Relief and Rehabilitation's Administration (1943-46), and Senator (1950-56).

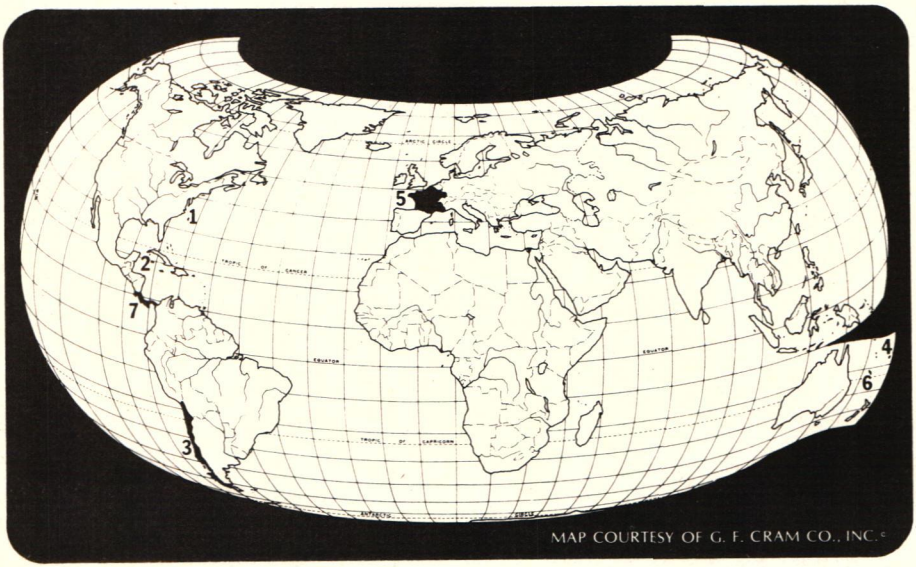

Designed and sculptured by Jacques Schnier, designer of the 1936 Bay Bridge Commemorative half dollar, the high relief medal features a strong portrait of Lehman on the obverse with his terminal dates, 1878-1968. The reverse exhibits one of Lehman's favorite biblical quotes that he frequently used: TO DO JUSTLY, LOVE MERCY, AND WALK HUMBLY WITH THY GOD.

As with previous issues, the Lehman commemorative has a distinctive rounded-trapezoidal shape, measures 2 inches diagonally, and weighs about three ounces. No more than 500 fine .999 silver and 1,000 bronze medals will be struck by the Medallic Art Co. All issues are serially numbered. The silver edition will be sent to those contributing $38.50, $9.50 for the bronze, and the set is $47.

The Jewish-American Hall of Fame series of medallic art was the first continuing series of Judaic medals to be produced outside of Israel, and is still the only series to be issued by a non-profit education institution — the Judah Magnes Museum, "The Jewish Museum of the West". Orders for the Lehman medal should be sent to the Magnes Museum, 2911 Russell Street, Berkeley, CA 94705. Inquiries concerning the earlier issues (Rabbi Mahnes, Albert Einstein, Justice Brandeis, George Gershwin, and Haym Salomon) are also welcome.

new and recent issues

It is the important duty of The Numismatist to record and illustrate new coins. To accomplish this, ANA members in the United States and abroad are invited to submit new issues to Ernst Kraus, Room 939 (include room number in address), 393 Seventh Ave., New York, N.Y. 10001. Coins will be photographed and returned as soon as possible, and a credit line will be given to anyone assisting.

Young Numismatist News

by David R. Cervin
ANA 65523

The Roman Coin Project

MARK R. TOPOR — there's a name to remember. Mark is, as of today, the NUMBER ONE junior numismatist in the world! What has Mark done? Well, he is the first to earn four coins in the increasingly popular ANA Roman Coin Project. It is interesting to note that Mark was the first to earn a Roman coin, but he became lax when he permitted Richard Sharon, Jr. to grab the spotlight in becoming the first to earn both two and three coins. This didn't stop Mark. To prove that his first victory was no fluke he came back and became the first to earn the peak number of coins that anyone can get, four.

For his fourth and final coin, Mark was awarded a splendid specimen of Constantius II (337-361). The features of the Emperor are sharply shown with attractive amounts of patina embedded around the profile. Most of the lettering is readable. The reverse is most attractive. It pictures a Roman warrior triumphantly spearing a barbarian horseman. Again, small amounts of patina are in evidence. What is patina? Patina is the soft green that chemically gathers on aged copper or copper alloys, in this case bronze. It is highly treasured in ancient coins.

How much is this coin worth? Thrown on the open market, it ought to fetch from six to nine dollars. How much did it cost Mark? Nothing, absolutely nothing in dollars. How about work? You had better believe that hard work was required. But what fine and rewarding work! Mark received his certificate showing that he had successfully completed the YNCC. Just think. For pursuing his hobby of numismatics in a most fascinating manner, he is rewarded with a splendid and moderately valuable Roman coin to add to his already growing collection.

Now how about you other young numismatists? Can you also earn a Roman coin for completing the YNCC? Of course you can. But wait. This has to be the fourth and final Roman coin that you can earn under the recently instituted ANA Roman Coin Project. How do you earn these first three? You simply speak, exhibit, write, hold office, work in coin shows, or earn youth badges, all in the field of your favorite hobby, numismatics. Of course, this work must be accomplished under definite control conditions. To find out the requirements send for a Roman Coin Request Form. Write to: David R. Cervin, 6201 Adirondack, Amarillo, TX, 79106.

For Mark's third coin he received a heavily platinated Gallienus (253-268). This he earned for writing an article on "cents" in the January issue of the Inkspot, official organ of the NJCCA, a national numismatic club operated for and by juniors. (To join send only $2.00 to Lorry Kiessling, 444 Edgehill Road, North Hills, PA, 19038.) Incidentally, Mark also earned a Roman coin for this article in the Inkspot. Thus, he has already earned five Roman coins. How many have you earned? In fact, do you have any Roman coins at all? Better get moving before the ANA runs out of Roman coins.

For Mark's first two coins, reported in the YNN last month, he received Constantine I (307-337), father of Constantius II, and Dioclentian (284-305). With these five coins, Mark is clearly on his way to assembling a fine and highly treasured collection of Roman Imperial coins.

Are there other awardees this month? Indeed there are. But it seemed useful to emphasize the attractiveness of being a four coin earner as is Mark Topor, our first. Next month we'll list numerous other recipients of Roman coins and your name may be among them.

Summer Seminar Plans Well Underway

With an anticipated registration of 200 students, the maximum that can be accommodated at Colorado College, plans are being finalized for the Seventh Annual American Numismatic Association Summer Seminar. A greater number of classes, but smaller in size, is the goal for 1975.

The backbone class of the seminar — Detection of Altered and Counterfeit Coins — will be divided into two classes, Introductory and Advanced. The latter is limited to students who have already taken a course in counterfeit detection. Each class is limited to 20 students and the introductory session is already filled. However, alternates are being considered.

Coin Grading, a regular for the past three years, will again be offered and it is hoped that Richard Long, former ANA museum director and author of a series of articles on grading, can again conduct the course. There are still openings in this class.

Coin Photography will be offered for the third year, too, but, as with counterfeiting, the classes will be divided into two groups, advanced and beginners. Students enrolling in Coin Photography will be sent forms and questionnaires before hand to advise them what to bring in equipment. The questionnaire will help the instructors plan ahead.

There will be such specialized classes as Introduction to Ancient Coins, to Medieval Coins, to Early American, and to Foreign Coins. Instructors will be professionals recognized throughout the hobby for their expertise.

Among the new offerings this year will be the Judging of Numismatic Exhibits. Led by Richard S. Yeoman, noted author and head judge for the 83rd Anniversary Convention in Miami in 1974, it will afford coin clubs and regional organizations the opportunity to send a representative, who in turn relay knowledge gained to members in his area. In this way, uniform judging of numismatic exhibits can become a reality throughout the country.

Another of the new and exciting courses will be Medallic Sculpturing and students will actually be able to design a medal of their own. Among the instructors for this course will be N. Neil Harris, ANA editor and historian, and the designer and sculptor of the Indiana State Bicentennial medal series.

Students desiring to register may write to ANA headquarters, but should indicate one or two alternate selections in case a particular course is filled.

The total fee for the week long seminar is $189.95. This includes tuition, lodging and meals at Colorado College. Also included in this are the field trips to the Denver Mint and the ghost towns of Cripple Creek and Victor, Colorado. The latter are from which the Lesher Referendum dollars originated.

The fee for spouses staying at the college, but not attending the seminar is $179.95. Activities are being planned for spouses. The college will not permit children under 11 years of age to stay in the dormitories nor to go on field trips. The college will not allow pets, either.

A $25.00 deposit must accompany each application in order to ensure enrollment in a course and to make the necessary reservations. Deposits cannot be refunded after May 31, 1975 and a $10 late fee will be assessed to anyone paying the balance of the tuition after June 15. Everyone attending the seminar, either as a student or accompanying a student, should be registered no later than June 15, 1975.

The dates for the seminar are July 6 through 12 and the Colorado Springs Coin Club will be hosting a two-day coin show, July 12 and 13, on the close of seminar. The Colorado Springs Numismatic Society, its sister organization will conduct an educational forum on Sunday, July 6, to formally open the seminar. All in all, the lucky Seventh promises to be the most exciting to date.

Meet Your ANA Office Staff

Cathy Mundy

Each month The Numismatist runs "Library Additions" as a service to the ANA membership. Few people realize that before a book can be officially publicized as an addition to the library it must go through various stages of careful processing. Cathy Mundy, cataloguer, is the person responsible for much of this work. Since last September, Cathy has been cataloguing and processing the library additions — some new and others that have been in print for many years but only recently have become part of the ANA collection.

Before a book can be shelved and made available to library patrons, Cathy catalogues each acquisition by assigning it a number indicating its subject classification. Cathy still marvels at the wide range of numismatic subjects with which she is confronted daily . . . and not always in English. Through the assistance of interested language and numismatic consultants, Cathy has tackled Chinese, Russian and Italian books, to name only a few.

After a book has been catalogued it is ready for technical processing. This includes Cathy typing the necessary file cards, affixing the borrower's card to the inside of the book and shelving books ready for loan. When she isn't cataloguing, translating and shelving books, she also assists visitors to the library, answers telephone inquiries and processes periodicals. Although she works only mornings, she seems to do a full day's work in just four hours.

Before moving to Colorado Cathy received her master of library science degree from the University of Oklahoma and gained experience by working at public libraries in Kansas City, Missouri; Providence, Rhode Island; and Fort Knox, Kentucky. Even now she maintains an interest in public library work by substituting at Penrose Public Library in Colorado Springs.

In recent months she has shingled her and her husband's ninety year old house (yes, she did it herself!), taken a college course in edible wild plants (with a slight break from classes while she recovered from poison ivy!) and maintained an active indoor-outdoor garden. Of course, such an energetic person deserves to have at least one assistant around the house and Cathy is lucky enough to have two — her husband Skip, who teaches art, and her two year old daughter, Meredith, who could charm the Indian head right off a penny.

The next time you browse through the "Library Additions" listing, think about Cathy, one of the many people at ANA headquarters who wants to help you make the most of your ANA membership.

TERRITORIAL AND PRIVATE UNITED STATES GOLD COINAGE

Necessity prompted the coinage of private and territorial gold coinage between the years 1830-61. It was struck in various sections of the United States where remoteness and rapid growth caused an insufficient number of coins to supply the needs of the community. While the law forbade states to mint gold coins, it did not prohibit private companies from doing so.

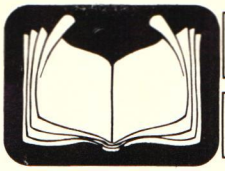

Privately struck coins were first issued by Templeton Reid, an assayer, in Lumpkin County, Georgia in 1830, and shortly thereafter Christopher Bectler, a jeweler and gunsmith, produced gold coins in Rutherfordton, North Carolina. The coins minted were often varied in size and color because of the variance in the content of the metal used. Two million dollars in gold coins are said to have been struck by Bectler.

Shortly after the beginning of the Gold Rush in California (1848-49) there was not enough money available for merchants to purchase goods being shipped into the area and the first effort in this region to remedy this shortage was the production of gold coins by Norris, Grieg & Norris.

It was in California that the greatest number and varieties of gold coins were privately produced, presumably because of the vast supply of this precious metal. Other states in which private coinage occurred were Utah, Oregon and Colorado.

British Standard

SEABY'S STANDARD CATALOGUE OF BRITISH COINS: COINS OF ENGLAND & THE UNITED KINGDOM Peter J. Seaby, Editor. 1975. 312 pp. Hard cover. B.A. Seaby Ltd., 11 Margaret St., London W1N 8AT, England. £2.50, (U.S. $6).

The 14th. edition of Seaby's Standard Catalogue of British Coins 1975 has been received and is worth the wait, as usual. The "Bible" of collectors of English coins, this issue sustains many of the fine qualities of its predecessors — printing and binding, grading guide, Latin legends found on the coins and their translations, and a brief historical and biographical introduction to each general period or reign.

Improvements, too, are there. Perhaps most significant is the section devoted to the coinages of the islands: Manx, Guernsey, Jersey, and yes — Lundy. Of considerable interest is the new "View and Review" chapter; here is a very brief survey of price advances since 1970 in selected issues of both early and recent milled series as well as hammered pieces. Notice of recent publications and recommendations thereof are here, as well as a few 'caveats' on the spurious issues, both old and new, which are appearing with alarming frequency.

Special praise, in the view of this reviewer, is due Messrs. Seaby for taking a stand on 'pseudo' coins. The plethora of high denomination, 'proof' or 'specimen', and 'limited' (unlimited?) issues for investment or growth potential is cited, and the unanswerable question asked: "Can pieces legitimately be described as 'coins' unless they are issued at face value or unless they are proofs or specimens of coins which are in general circulation?"

While the book is not without its inevitable faults, it is, nonetheless, a highly valuable and important work. The English equivalent to the "red book", it is an accurate price guide for most issues. Conversion from pounds to dollars is relatively easy. It is to be hoped that companion volumns in the series — Irish Coins and Tokens, Scottish Coins and Tokens, Copper Coins and British Tokens will not only be of comparable quality but soon forthcoming.

Latin American, Caribbean Coins

THE COINAGES OF LATIN AMERICA AND THE CARIBBEAN Edited by E. A. Furber. 1974. 486 pp. Illus. Hard cover. Quarterman Publications, Inc., 5 South Union Street, Lawrence, MA 01804. $30.

This fifth volume in the series GLEANINGS FROM THE NUMISMATIST brings together articles published over a 60-year span dealing with the history and descriptions of these interesting series of coins — some of which were legal tender in the United States until 1857 and which have been found in hoards from the western United States to the Philippines. Background information not available elsewhere on the historical events and fascinating personalities involved with the coinages and mints of Latin America is contained in this 504-page hardbound volume.

In addition to the more than 100 articles from The Numismatist, a foreword and notes by R.C. Soxman and an index have been added. As the early Spanish American issues are among those most frequently counterfeited, a section of fantasy issues and counterfeits, containing many of Virgil Hancock's "Featuring Fakes" columns, has been included — helping to make this book a must for all collectors of Latin American coins and New World history buffs.

Crowns of Europe

EUROPEAN CROWNS 1600-1700 by John S. Davenport. 1974. 634 pp. Illus. Hard cover. Steve Eyer, Box 274, Blackwood, NJ 08012. $30.

The current step in John Davenport's program to produce a multi-volume catalogue of all the crowns of Europe is the largest and most impressive.

The listing of European Crowns 1600-1700 covers almost two thousand dollars and multiples in 634 pages. There is a high proportion of rare pieces: for a few no illustrations could be found and others had to be shown by line drawings. (In this the author keeps good company: King Victor Emmanuel III in his Italian Corpus faced the same problem and adopted the same solution.)

Professor Davenport has followed his usual format, dividing the continent (less Germany which is the subject of a companion volume now in preparation) into major geographical or political entities, each including a number of logically ordered sub-entities. Italy, for example, involves almost 450 crowns and multiples of thrity-five princes and city-states and the Pontiff.

In this catalogue, more than in the previous Davenport volumes, the question of what consitiutes a major type, as against a minor variety, often must have given the author tough times. No uniform rule will work throughout, and in one obscure issue or another some students will surely debate with him. By way of illustration, this reviewer's mild prejudice would tend to be against quite so detailed a treatment of the generally dull series of Schauenberg.

Again, pleading personal prejudice, I regret the Russian yefimki of 1654-1655 are missing. The struck coin of 1654 would seem to meet the criteria, and the extensive 1655 series of counterstamps on various European crowns is worthy of some mention.

One wonders how many readers miss, to their loss, John Davenport's regular Appendix A — the one that lists and translates inscriptions found on the catalogued coins. It's always a rewarding feature. In this volume particularly it includes a lot of hitherto unpublished data that help solve many numismatic attribution problems beyond the scope of the Davenport work itself.

The author concluded wisely not to prepare a list of estimated prices such as has accompanied his earlier publications. To tackle it this time would have been futile agony. In the end, a number of the estimates would have been wholly subjective. There are no records of prices for the past twenty-five years or more on many of these rare coins.

Altogether this splendid production will be one of the principal numismatic milestones of 1975. Like all the Davenport catalogs the book is on good paper, sturdily bound, and designed to stand up under hard use. — Randolph Zander.

numismatic vignettes

by glenn b. smedley

■ The Copy Club of New York, I read somewhere, honored two copywriters recently with induction into its Hall of Fame. One was John Caples who, as a copy cub in 1925, wrote an advertisement that went down in history as one of the greatest ever composed. Its lead line was the now familiar "They Laughed When I Sat Down at the Piano!"

Numismatists don't often make the headlines or utter phrases that become household quotes. But many of them make worthy contributions to the knowledge of mankind and to a hobby that brightens many a life. And we do have a means of honoring outstanding numismatists — the Numismatic Hall of Fame.

■ An experiment on the speed of sound that you can try. Start a rumor about someone on the ground floor of your office building; then race up the stairs and see how far you can get before it is there. To date the record is the fifth floor.

■ When you have occasion to write to headquarters in Colorado Springs, you can avoid a possible mixup in names by giving your membership number. There are many members with the same or very similar names on the rolls of ANA. For example , there are 162 Johnson's (5 Donald, 5 Charles and 5 Robert); 170 named Miller (2 James L. and 2 Robert G.); and 242 Smith's (6 Richard, 7 Robert, 13 William). But EVERY member has a different number, so use yours for positive identification.

Now, hear this! And I swear that the following is true. We have 2 Toy's but only 1 Doll; 5 Fish's, plus 3 Trout, 4 Bass, 5 Pike and 10 Herring's; 3 Forrest's but no Tree (the 1 Branch we have doth not a tree make); 2 Weed's, 2 Flower's and a Plants, but no Garden or Lawn; 1 Male, 1 Sir, 1 Lady and 1 Person; 14 Day's but no Night; 1 Honey, 3 Darling's and 1 Kiss. At this point, you'd do well to reread the first paragraph and forgive me for the second - although it IS true.

■ Almost invariably when two or more of us "old-timers" get together, someone proudly states his membership number and allows as how it must be one of the earliest of any living member. For the information of such boasters, the following are the lowest numbers that, according to records at headquarters, were on the membership rolls as of February. One word of caution: don't tie the member's age closely with his or her number; several of these persons are younger than I am even though their numbers are considerably lower than mine. If anyone can point out an error or omission, please advise me of it.

PORT AU PRINCE, HAITI — Gold and Silver Coins to be Struck for 1976 Olympics...

The first legal tender gold coins commemorating the 1976 Olympic Games will be struck this spring according to the National Bank of the Republic of Haiti.

Companion sterling silver coins will also be struck. Both of identical design, the limited issue coins are the first to commemorate both the summer games — scheduled for Montreal — and the winter games — slated for Innsbruck, Austria.

The limited issue is the first non-Canadian coinage honoring the 21st Olympic Games, according to Liliano Maso, chief executive officer of Italcambio, the North American distributor of legal tender coins of Haiti.

The brilliant uncirculated (BU) version of both coins will be released at face value plus handling and shipping charges. A limited number of proof coins will also be minted, according to the announcement. The coins will be available at Haitian banks and distributed elsewhere by Italcambio.

The coins picture a youthful female bearing a torch with which she is lighting the symbolic eternal flame of the Olympics. This central figure is flanked by a skier on one side and runners on the other. Included also is the designation: REPUBLIQUE D'HAITI and the inscription: 1976 OLYMPIADE above a reproduction of the Olympic five-ring symbol positioned between the words: INNSBRUCK and MONTREAL.

The reverse shows the flag, cannon and palm seal of Haiti on an ocean background. On the ribbon under the seal appears the motto: L'UNION FAIT LA FORCE. The reverse also carries the French heritage inspired inscription: LIBERTE EGALITE FRATERNITE.

The 25mm gold coins weighing 6.5 grams will be struck in 21 2/3K solid gold and carry the denomination of 500 gourdes. The sterling silver, 25-gourde coins are 38mm in diameter and weigh 16.75 grams. At the official exchange rate of five gourdes to the dollar the gold coin's value is $100 and the silver coin, $5.00.

The coins are scheduled to be ready before the end of May, 1975. The 1974-dated limited issue is authorized under provisions of a 1973 decree of the Republic of Haiti — the same law under which the Caribbean island nation struck the world's first gold coin honoring the Bicentennial of the United States.

The Italcambio Group is the world's largest and foremost distributor of modern gold and silver coin of the realm, currently representing special issue monetary coinage for some 25 sovereign nations. The firm maintains mints and/or offices in Miami, Milan, Paris, Frankfurt, Caracas and Chiasso, Switzerland.

Official issue price of the single BU gold coin is $110 and $10.75 for the silver version. A BU mini-set of one gold and one silver coin in a special case will cost $125. The Proof coin mini-set is $220. A postage and insurance fee of $2 should accompany orders to: Haitian Olympic Coins c/o Italcambio 1470 NE 129th St. N., Miami, FL 33161.

1975 World Figure Skating Commemorative Medal

The World Figure Skating Championships for 1975 have been commemorated by bronze and silver medals. A 2 inch medal is being offered in both bronze and silver. The bronze is available at $9.50, the silver at $19.50. A 4 inch medal is offered only in bronze for $20 in a very limited quantity.

The obverse design shows the BROADMOOR Resort Complex, including the new 150-room addition BROADMOOR West, scheduled to open in Spring of 1976.

The reverse exhibits the official logo of the championships, five figure skating blades arranged in a circular pattern, representing the five times The BROADMOOR has hosted the World Figure Skating Championships.

Sculptured by Pat Whittaker, the medals were struck by the Medallic Art Company of Danbury, Conn., formerly of New York.

The medals may be purchased through the BROADMOOR World Arena, P.O. Box 1439, Colorado Springs, CO 80901.

Vancouver Plans Third Counterfeit Course

The Vancouver International Coin Enthusiasts will hold their third annual Counterfeit Detection Seminar, to be held May 24-26, 1975, at the University of British Columbia.

Virgil Hancock and Robert Kriz will instruct in the fine points of how to detect counterfeit coins. Virgil Hancock of Bellaire, Texas, is author of "Fakes & Fakers" published in Numismatic News, and "Featuring Fakes" published in the A.N.A.'s The Numismatist. Robert Kriz, of Merritt Island, Florida, is an expert in the science of measurement.

Specimens of counterfeit coins from around the world will be examined by the students. Persons wishing to take the course are asked to advise V.I.C.E. of their collecting interests so that counterfeits will be available from your area.

The facilities at U.B.C. are excellent for the Counterfeit detection student. Each student will have his or her own Nikon Stereo Microscope.

For further information write: V.I.C.E., P.O. Box 35484, Vancouver, B.C., Canada, V6M 4G8.

NLG Announces Writers Forum

The Numismatic Literary Guild annual Writers Forum will feature a distinguished international panel of numismatic publication executives during the convention of the American Numismatic Association, August 19-24, 1975, in Los Angeles.

Leon T. Lindheim, syndicated coin columnist and vice president of the Continental Bank, Cleveland, Ohio, has been named panel moderator by 1975 Forum chairman Russ Rulau, Iola, Wisconsin.

The four panelists are Albert Pick, Munich, Germany, author of the new 1975 "Standard Catalog of World Paper Money"; Chester L. Krause, Iola, Wisconsin, publisher of "Numismatic News Weekly" and other hobby periodicals and books; Wayne L. Lawrence, vice president in advertising of Amos Press Inc., publishers of "Coin World", Sidney, Ohio; and Robert Wolenik, editor of "COINage" magazine, Beaumont, California.

The Numismatic Literary Guild is an association of writers, editors, publishers, photographers and curators in the numismatic field. Beginning in 1973 it has sponsored an annual Writers Forum at each ANA convention.

Information on the Guild is available from the executive director, Ray Byrne, P.O. Drawer W, Delray Beach, FL 33444.

Jim Riding Named Hamilton Mint President

James H. Riding has been named president of the Hamilton Mint of Arlington Heights, Illinois.

The thirty-five year old Riding comes to the Hamilton Mint from a ten year career with Time Incorporated where most recently he had been president of Time, Inc. Book Clubs. His responsibilities included the operations of all four of Time's book clubs. Previously he had been vice-president and general manager of New York Graphic Society Limited; marketing and financial director of Books and Arts Associates; and assistant circulation director of Time Magazine. Riding will assume his new duties immediately.

The Hamilton Mint, is a subsidiary of Downe Communications, Inc. Its recent programs include being named official mint for the LBJ Memorial Grove, the State of Kentucky Historical Events Celebration Commission, the Ford Motor Company for its 20th Anniversary celebration of the introduction of the Thunderbird motor car, the Arizona War Memorial Foundation, and the World Golf Hall of Fame in Pinehurst, North Carolina.

FM Announces Record 1974

The Franklin Mint Corporation recently reported the highest level of annual sales and earnings in its history. Sales (unaudited) for 1974 were $166,-860,000, an increase of 48% over 1973 sales of $112,676,000. Earnings (unaudited) for 1974 increased 42% to $13,012,000, as compared with 1973 earnings of $9,138,000. Earnings per share were $1.58, an increase of 41% over the 1973 earnings of $1.12 per share.

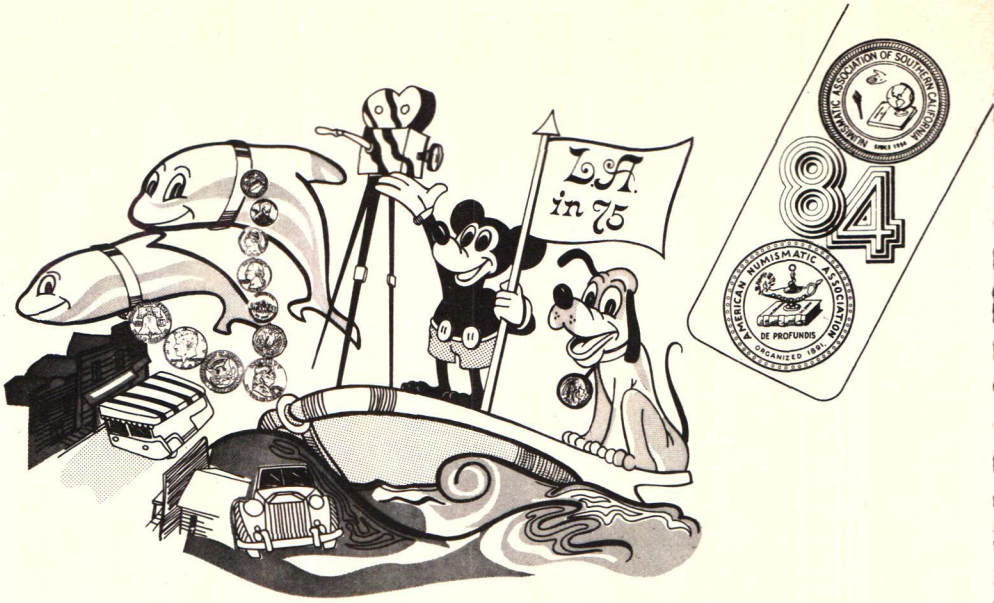

CONE Appoints PR Director

The Collectors of Numismatic Errors (CONE) announces the appointment of Louis J. Togno as Director of Public Relations. In this connection, the club has indicated that he will have a free hand establishing his own programs.

Having extensive experience in the Public Relations field, Togno is member 72222 of the American Numismatic Association and an assistant to Congressman Mario Biaggi of New York.

Mr. Togno states that although his plans are flexible, his programs will be in conformance with the clubs' motto, "Sharing Knowledge".

Anyone desiring information or membership application for the Collectors of Numismatic Errors may contact: Mr. Louis J. Togno, P.O. Box 21, City Island, N.Y., 10464.

LOS ANGELES MARRIOTT WELCOMES YOU

The Los Angeles Marriott Hotel will be the site of the 84th anniversary convention of the American Numismatic Association. The hotel opened only recently and offers all the luxuries and comforts for visitors at a major convention. The 1,000 rooms are all well-styled and luxuriously furnished. There are no less than seven restaurants and lounges within the hotel to serve visitors' needs around the clock. There is convenient parking adjacent to the hotel as well as garage facilities for guests.

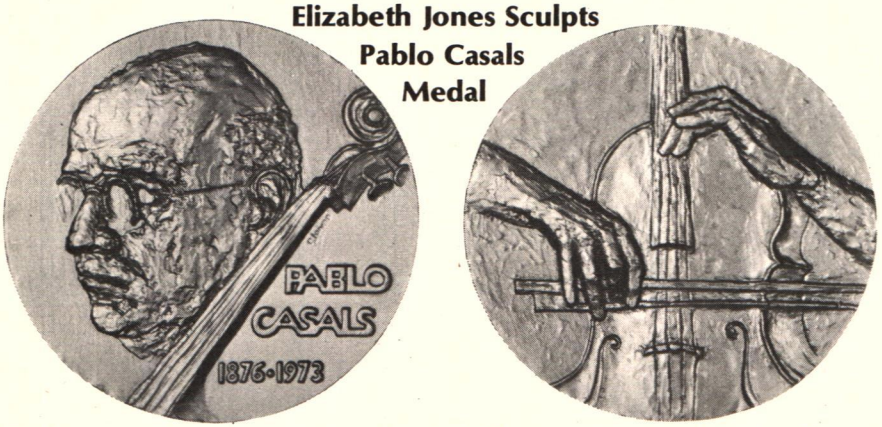

Located near the Los Angeles International Airport, the hotel is most convenient to out-of-town visitors who will fly to the ANA convention. Free curbside shuttle bus service will be provided by the hotel for persons traveling to and from the airport as well as to and from adjacent hotels which will be housing many ANA visitors. A majority of rooms and suites have already been booked by convention visitors, so early reservations are urged to assure space in the Marriott.

The officially designated overflow hotel is the Airport Sheraton. Not only will many convention attendees be housed there, but several important meetings and meal functions during the course of the convention as well. The Sheraton just across the street from the Marriott. Other nearby hotels which are holding rooms for the ANA are the International and the Americana. In each instance, these fine properties have confirmed room rates which will be attractive to those who might wish to stay there.

Housing chairman Al Baber indicated that early reservations are essential, especially if one wishes to hold a room at the convention headquarters hotel, the Los Angeles Marriott. For further information on these, or other facilities, Al may be contacted at P. O. Box 686, El Cajon, California 92021.

Elizabeth Jones Sculpts Pablo Casals Medal

The International Numismatic Agency, New York City, announces the publication of a new art medal memorializing the late Pablo Casals. Mr. Casals' musical expertise and composing abilities achieved for him worldwide recognition as the foremost musical artist of his time.

The new medal struck by the Medallic Art Company, Danbury, Connecticut, will be issued in April, 1975. Elizabeth Jones of Rome, Italy and a member of the National Sculpture Society was commissioned to create the Casal Memorial Medal. Miss Jones won the ANA award for numismatic sculpture in 1972.

The medal features a three-quarter portrait of Casals on the obverse, and his famous hands and cello on the reverse.

The Agency is accepting orders now for the new 2 1/2 inch, serially numbered medals, at special introductory prices until May 15, 1975.

The editions offered are: bronze—limited to 1,000—$9.95 plus 75¢ postage; .999 silver (approx. five ounces)—limited to 750—$75 plus $1.25 postage; and 24 karet gold vermeil—limited to 250—$92.50. The latter two offerings are hallmarked and are accompanied by certificates of authenticity. Display easels are included with all issues. Matched three piece sets in presentation chests are offered at $195 plus $2.50 postage.

Issue prices for all issues after May 15 will be: $12.95, $85, $100, and $250 respectively.

Checks, money orders, or charges to Bank Americard, Master charge, and American Express should be directed to the Agency, 225 Lafayette St., New York, NY 10012. New York residents are required to add appropriate sales tax. Complete satisfaction is guaranteed or money will be promptly refunded.

ANA Museum Receives Olympic Coinage

Just days after the ANA dedicated its new lower level museum galleries in Colorado Springs, Colorado, the Association received the first set of Series III Olympic Coin struck for the 1976 games at Montreal by the Canadian Government.

Bruce Rankin, consul general of Canada in New York, presented the coins to Edward C. Rochette, ANA executive director, who accepted the presentation on behalf of the ANA for permanent display in the new museum galleries.

The presentation coincided with the deliverance of a $45,000 check by the 1976 Canadian Olympic Coin Program to the treasurer of the United States Olympic Committee to aid in financing the U.S. team's trip to Montreal during the summer of 1976.

Series III coins depict the early sports history of Canada — canoeing, rowing, cycling, and lacrosse. Illustrations of the Series III coins along with ordering information of these issues were offered on page 562 of the March issue of The Numismatist.

Edward C. Rochette, (l), ANA executive director, receives the first Series III Canadian Olympic Coin set for permanent display in the ANA's new museum galleries from Bruce Rankin, Canadian consul general in New York.

DON'T MOVE

Without Giving ANA Advance Notice

We don't want you to miss a copy of The Numismatist... but the Postal Service will not forward second class mail.

If you change your address without notification... you will miss an issue of The Numismatist and cost the ANA 40¢ per copy when the post office returns the issue to headquarters. Until now we would attempt to remail the missing issues to members who have changed their addresses, even without notification. In addition to the original mailing by the printer and the cost of remailing of an issue ... the ANA pays over 70¢ per copy to get an issue to a member who has moved without notification.

Due to the rising costs in practically every area of publishing The Numismatist, we must now request notification of an address change. Effective immediately, a missed issue will not be remailed to you unless you notify us of your address change and request that your missing copy be sent to you.

To avoid missing an issue, affix a label from a previous mailing of your journal here and complete your new address on the form below. An address change must be received at least six weeks prior to its effective date to assure continuous receipt of The Numismatist.

James F. Ruddy and Q. David Bowers tell you . . .

When Great Collections Are Sold . . . The American Auction Association Sells Them!

A recent highlight of the coin market was our sale of the fabulous Newport Collection. Important United States and world coins were offered for sale, and price record after price record was broken. Yes, when great collections are sold, the American Auction Association sells them!

The Newport Collection sale is now just a fond memory. But, more history-making sales are on their way! You can consign your coins NOW for our fabulous next sale! It will be one of the most important numismatic events of our time!

"WHAT OUR CONSIGNORS SAY"

When we sold the Armand Champa Collection at public sale, Mr. Champa, one of America's most prominent numismatists, was so pleased with the results that he did something unprecedented in the annals of numismatic auctions: completely unsolicited by us he placed large advertisements in "The Numismatist" and other leading publications to thank us for our service:

"Thank you Dave Bowers and Jim Ruddy for the excellent handling of my coins through you American Auction Association. I was very well pleased with your wonderful descriptions of my coins, especially the patterns. The prices realized for my coins NEARLY DOUBLED the offers I received from other dealers."

We think that the comment that our auction sale results NEARLY DOUBLED the other offers received is especially significant.

Recently another consignor, Dr. Bernard Bressler, of the Duke University Medical Center (Durham, North Carolina), wrote to say:

"I am most appreciative of your sending me the check and the results from your last auction. I am MORE THAN SATISFIED with the proceeds. I want to congratulate you on the BEAUTIFUL CATALOGUE and the BEAUTIFUL RESULTS."

Recently we sold the fabulous collection of United States and world coins and paper money formed over a long period of years by MR. MATT ROTHERT, DISTINGUISHED PAST PRESIDENT OF THE AMERICAN NUMISMATIC ASSOCIATION. Mr. Rothert's accomplishments include receiving nearly every major numismatic award, including the American Numismatic Association's highest award, the Farran Zerbe Award, in 1973.

We consider it significant that Mr. Rothert chose us to auction his famous collection. Equally important, once the sale took place. Mr. Rothert expressed his pleasure with our cataloguing of his material and with the results obtained. "I want you to know that I was WELL PLEASED with my recent auction." Many, many price records were shattered. The Matt Rothert Collection sale will live forever in numismatic history.

And, many, many similar unsolicited comments are in our files. What we have done for others, we can do for you!

CONSIGNMENTS WANTED: LARGE AND SMALL. If you have several thousand dollars or more worth of choice and rare U.S. coins or coins of the world, contact us today about including them in our next sale. Already a number of choice consignments have been received, thus assuring that our next sale will be one of the most important numismatic events of our time.

NOW ACCEPTING CONSIGNMENTS
—for our next sale—

We are now accepting consignments for our fabulous auction sale to be held in February. This sale will feature many outstanding United States coins and coins of the world—including scarcities and rarities. It is the IDEAL PLACE to offer your individual rare coins, sets, or your collection.

CONTACT US NOW! Considering the sale of your coins? Write or telephone James F. Ruddy or Q. Daivd Bowers and we will discuss our convenient arrangements with you. Or, if you prefer, just drop us a note asking for auction information. Give a brief description (a few sentences will do) of your coins. We will send you complete details by return mail.

'THINKING OF SELLING? Make "the right decision" and consign your coins to the AMERICAN AUCTION ASSOCIATION division of BOWERS AND RUDDY GALLERIES, INC. What we have done for others we will do for you.

James F. Ruddy and Q. David Bowers tell you . . .

HOW TO GET THE BEST PRICE WHEN YOU SELL YOUR COINS!

Considering the sale of your choice coins, sets, or your entire collection? James F. Ruddy and Q. David Bowers offer you the finest auction service in the rare coin field today. Consider the advantages that a combined public and mail bid auction by our American Auction Association division offers you:

THE BEST POSSIBLE PRICE for your coins will be yours with an American Auction Association sale. Public attendance plus spirited mail bidding from our mailing list of the most active buyers in numismatics will combine to produce the BEST POSSIBLE PRICE for your coins—the best RESULTS available in numismatics today.

EXPERT CATALOGUING by James F. Ruddy, Q. David Bowers, and the other professional numismatists on the large staff of Bowers and Ruddy Galleries is yours. You get the experience of our having handled untold millions of dollars worth of choice United States coins and coins of the world—including many of the finest collections sold in American and Europe in recent decades.

A BEAUTIFUL CATALOGUE will highlight your collection. Important pieces will be illustrated with detailed photographs. The illustrations, layout, typography, and descriptions of the coins will make the catalogue featuring your collection a standard reference for years to come. In fact, our auction catalogues of the past have become valuable collectors' items in themselves! (Note: If you prefer—as many sellers do—we will keep your identity strictly confidential.) Your collection will be offered to its best advantage. If you've seen an AMERICAN AUCTION ASSOCIATION catalogue you know that there are no "shortcuts" with photography, quality, or coin descriptions. You get the BEST when you come here.

CASH ADVANCES AVAILABLE. Generous cash advances toward the amount realized are available. In this way you can have immediate cash right now.

PLUS THESE OTHER ADVANTAGES: Over past decades countless numismatists and museums have made the RIGHT DECISION and have let the AMERICAN AUCTION ASSOCIATION (division of Bowers and Ruddy Galleries) sell their coins. The Collier Collection, the Fairfield Collection, the Fuller Collection, the Gilroy Collection, the Westwood Collection, the Monroe Collection, the Wilmette Collection, the Armand Champa Collection, the Robert Marks Collection, the Terrell Collection, the Dr. W. E. Caldwell Collection, the George A. Merriweather Collection, and others—the list is virtually endless—have all been handled by us to the complete satisfaction of their owners. A recent highlight was our sale of the fabulous collection assembled over a long period of years by Mr. Matt Rothert, distinguished past president of the American Numismatic Association.

REFERENCES: When you sell your coins through the American Auction Association division of Bowers and Ruddy Galleries, Inc. you are doing business with a firm of unquestioned financial and professional reputation. We are Life Members of the American Numismatic Association, are members of the Professional Numismatists Guild (James F. Ruddy is recipient of the P.N.G. Distinguished Service Award; Q. David Bowers is a director of the P.N.G.), the International Association of Professional Numismatists, and other leading organizations.

WHAT WE HAVE DONE FOR OTHERS WE CAN DO FOR YOU! Any way you look at it, we offer you the BEST WAY TO SELL YOUR COINS. (1) The results of our sales are proven. Consignors in the past have been DELIGHTED. You will be pleased as well. (2) Our commission rates are very competitive and reasonable. (3) An instant cash advance is available. (4) We are accepting consignments RIGHT NOW for our next sale. There's no long-term waiting!

COOK ISLANDS CHURCHILL $100 COMMEMORATIVE

½ TROY OUNCE OF 22K GOLD

The Cook Islands Sir Winston Churchill Commemorative coin contains 258 GRAINS .916 FINE GOLD. With this unusually high gold content, twice the content of most modern issue coins of comparable denomination, your 1974 Proof $100 gold coin is a potentially outstanding investment. And, bolstering this potential is the fact that this Proof coin is REAL MONEY — a beautiful legal tender Proof specimen of actual circulating Cook Islands currency.

ONLY 5,000 PROOFS AVAILABLE

Because the Royal Australian Mint is so demanding of perfection, the government of the Cook Islands has restricted the number of Proof coins to the capacity of the Mint. As a result only 5,000 1974 Churchill Commemorative Proof $100 gold coins will be struck.

The reverse design of the $100 gold centenary is a portrayal of Churchill, with the British Union Jack and House of Parliament in the background. A portrait of Queen Elizabeth II is on the obverse.

RESERVATIONS — $350.00 PER PROOF COIN

Cook Islands Churchill Commemorative $100 gold coins are available in Proof condition for $350.00 each and are limited to two coins per customer. Uncirculated Specimen coins will be available for $250.00 each and are limited to 10 coins per customer. Orders will be accepted until authorized mintage limits have been reached.

Reservations should be directed and remittances made payable to Paramount International Coin Corporation. Please give special notice to the ordering limit for each coin.

THE COOK ISLANDS REVISITED

The numismatic world was pleased with the announcement in 1972 that the Cook Islands would soon begin issuing modern Proof coinage. This island nation had been issuing some of the most beautiful (and rare!) stamps for many years, but had previously issued only one coin, that being the joint New Zealand-Cook Islands One Dollar Crown of 1970. Until then, New Zealand currency had been the only accepted money on the islands.

The 1972 Proof Set was struck at the Royal Australian Mint at Canberra and contains seven coins: 1¢, 2¢, 5¢, 10¢, 20¢, 50¢ and One Dollar. The 5¢ through $1 coins are copper nickel while the 1¢ and 2¢ are bronze.

The One Dollar coin features the famous figure of Tangaroa, the Cook Islands god of creation, water, the ocean, navigation and the heavens. Two years ago, the carved figure itself sold at a Sotheby auction in London for $103,000, setting an auction record for primitive sculpture!

The mintage of this set is only 17,101. An additional 10,082 single Proof One Dollar coins were also issued. We make the entire set available for only $55. This popular set was originally issued at $19.50 and has been rising in value ever since. In fact, we have considerable difficulty keeping any quantity in stock! For this reason, we must limit each customer to a maximum of two sets.

AN INCREDIBLE PUBLICATION:

The Largest and Most Comprehensive

CATALOGUE OF RARE COINS

Ever Issued by any Dealer!

Huge Catalogue Now Ready!

"The largest and most comprehensive catalogue of rare coins ever issued by any dealer" is the claim we make for our new Rare Coin Review No. 22. Containing 204 pages (large 8½x11" page size) and thousands of photographs, this huge catalogue offers selections from nearly FOUR MILLION DOLLARS WORTH OF RARE COINS in our stock! The catalogue is now being mailed to those on our mailing list. In addition, a limited number of extra copies are available for sale. Read on . . .

United States Coins

Divided into major sections, Rare Coin Review No. 22 offers extensive listings of United States, ancient, and world coins in all metals including copper, nickel, silver, and gold.

Among the United States coins the most impressive piece is the exceedingly rare (only 5 are known!) 1913 Liberty head nickel once the property of Egypt's King Farouk. Priced at $300,000, the coin is accompanied by a detailed seven-page description of its history. The 1913 Liberty nickel is the most famous of all United States coin rarities. The late Texas dealer, B. Max Mehl, spent over one million dollars in his lifetime advertising the 1913 nickel alone!

Bowers and Ruddy Galleries is well known for handling major rarities, and its previous issue of the Rare Coin Review offered for sale an 1894-S dime at $97,500 and an 1804 silver dollar at $200,000, both of which were sold.

United States coins in the new catalogue begin with colonial issues including romantic Pine Tree pieces of Massachusetts, coins of the various states, and pieces honoring George Washington. Then come half cents and large cents replete with famous rarities (such as many different 1793 cents, including several top-grade chain pieces!). Small cents, two-cent and three-cent pieces, and nickel five-cent pieces are well represented, including scarcities and rarities. The selection of American silver coins includes rarities as well as popularly-priced pieces among early bust type, Liberty seated, and Barber issues. Twentieth century pieces are likewise well represented with many outstanding values in the Mercury dime, Liberty standing quarter, and Liberty walking half dollar series.

Silver dollars, always a popular series, include a really outstanding specimen of the first year of issue, 1794, a superb 1836 Gobrecht dollar with C. GOBRECHT F. below base (one of America's most historic coins), and other really great values among Gobrecht, Liberty seated, Morgan, and Peace dollars. Rounding out the offering of dollar-size coins is a group of American trade dollars from 1873 onward.

Gold coins, long a Bowers and Ruddy Galleries specialty, are represented by many scarcities and rarities, plus many worthwhile issues in the medium price category. Included are denominations from gold dollars through the impressive $50 gold piece. Regular United States coins as well as territorial issues are offered.

Paper money in Rare Coin Review No. 22 features many really fine pieces among United States large and small size notes, sheets of colonial currency, fractional currency, and other desirable pieces. Following the regular U.S. section there is an extensive presentation of pattern coins, Hawaiian issues, tokens, medals, encased postage stamps, and political pieces. Not to be overlooked also is an offering of important numismatic reference books.

Ancient Coins and Coins of the World

Among ancient coins you will find a quality offering of Greek silver pieces, a diverse selection of ancient gold (especially Byzantine issues), and a number of coins from several recently-acquired ancient hoards.

The listing of coins of the world in itself is the largest and most comprehensive priced offering of pieces ever presented by any rare coin firm. Canada is represented by a beautiful listing, especially rich in higher grades such as Extremely Fine to Proof, including scarcities and rarities among the Victorian and early 20th century issues. Cuba includes an offering remarkable for the quality of its crown-size pieces. The Philippine Islands offer an unusually nice selection from minor coins to pesos, from Isabella II to the Republic—plus scarce-date Proof sets and other desirable issues.

Austria has a wel-rounded grouping from medieval times to the present, with emphasis on the illustrious commemorative coins of this beautiful country. Germany likewise features a well-rounded offering from early years to modern times.

Great Britain comprises pieces beginning with hammered issues and continuing through to modern times. Included are copper, silver, and gold issues—including type coins, rarities, crowns, patterns, Proofs, Maundy sets, and other desirable specimens.

Latin American coinage in the new Rare Coin Review No. 22 covers a wide range of countries, each with its own specialized listing. For example, the coins of Mexico begin with a selection of colonial issues—pillar dollars from 1734 to 1771, continue through the empire of Iturbide (featuring high-grade minor coins, 1822 Mo J.M. ½ and 1 real pieces, plus a nearly complete offering of 8 reales, including the Fat Head variety), the second empire of Maximilian (including the rare 1866 Mo small letters peso in top grade, a coin of which only 36 were minted, and the 1866 Go peso in mint state!), revolutionary coinage (including rarities), and one of the most complete offerings of 20th century Mexican coins ever made—not to mention a fantastic selection of 8-real and peso pieces.

How You Can Get a Copy!

Other features of the new Bowers and Ruddy Galleries catalogue include a commentary on the current coin market, a description of the firm's popular Collection-Investment Program, a lively Question and Answer Forum, and other sections of interest.

The preparation and publication of this catalogue—destined to become a collector's item for years to come due to inclusion of the 1913 Liberty head nickel and other fantastic rarities, not to mention it being the largest priced offering of coins every presented by a dealer—cost over $10 per copy! However, while a limited supply of extra copies lasts, they are available for just $2 each postpaid to United States addresses and $5 postpaid by air mail to overseas addresses to serious collectors and investors only. Limit: one copy per order.

A Remarkable Guarantee!

Not only can you buy a copy of this $10 catalogue for just $2, you are also protected by a remarkable guarantee: after you receive your catalogue, if you don't agree that it is the most value-filled catalogue you've ever seen, just drop us a note and we'll refund your $2 — and you can keep the catalogue! So, you can't lose a thing! But, you can gain quite a bit: by learning where leading dealers and collectors from all over the world find really SUPERB rare coin values! Airmail your order today. Our supply of copies of this incredible catalogue is limited, and copies are offered on a first-come, first-served basis.

Enclosed please find $_____ ($2 for surface mail or $5 for air mail) for a copy of Rare Coin Review No. 22. I understand my complete satisfaction is guaranteed or my cost will be refunded. Send the catalogue to:

YOU MAY NEVER AGAIN FIND THIS HISTORIC GOLD COIN AT THESE LOW ISSUE PRICES

A maximum of only 10,000 Proofs of the magnificent Cayman Islands gold coins pictured above will ever be minted. If you hurry, you can obtain this historic gold commemorative at its original government issue price.

Commemorating the 100th Anniversary of Sir Winston Churchill's birth, the new $100 gold coin has significant historic value. This value, combined with the coin's large denomination and desirable gold content, makes it a true collectors item with excellent investment potential.

Superbly struck at the Royal Canadian Mint, the Cayman Islands new $100 gold commemorative features on the obverse a striking portrait of Sir Winston Churchill — the man who led the British nation in "its most deadly danger and its finest hour". The Cayman Islands Coat of Arms and the Islands' motto, "He Hath Founded It Upon The Seas", is depicted on the reverse.

This legal tender, high face value gold commemorative should not be confused with the various fantasy coins and medals so often advertised in the numismatic media. Your new $100 gold coin will be REAL MONEY, a limited collector specimen of actual circulating currency in the Cayman Islands.

You can even spend this coin in the Cayman Islands. In fact, Uncirculated $100 gold coins will be sold at various banks, clearing houses and commercial establishments throughout the islands — further illustrating this coin's circulating legal tender status.

UNCIRCULATED GOLD COINS AVAILABLE AT FACE VALUE

Cayman Islands Uncirculated $100 Churchill gold commemoratives may be obtained at virtually no risk whatsoever. The $120.00 U.S. price is equivalent to $100 in Cayman Islands funds, so you pay no premium or exchange commission.

Proof $100 coins are priced slightly higher due to the special and meticulous minting care received. Proofs will be characterized by their richness in design detail and exquisite mirrorlike surfaces. After minting, Proof coins will be carefully inspected to assure that the coin you receive is absolutely flawless in every detail. Housed in a deluxe presentation case, your new Churchill commemorative Proof gold coin will be a treasured heirloom that may be beautifully and proudly displayed.

Proof $100 gold coins, priced at $200.00 each, are strictly limited to two coins per order. Uncirculated coins are available at $120.00 and limited to five per order.

Enhance your collection. Reserve this ONE TIME ONLY historic commemorative gold coin, while the price is right.

Proof And Uncirculated Coins Honoring Sir Winston Churchill

Collectors and investors are invited to participate in one of the most distinguished numismatic commemorations of the 20th Century – now expanded to include coins STRUCK IN GOLD.

Currently available for ordering are the limited issue Turks and Caicos Islands 100 Crown and 50 Crown gold coins, commemorating the 100th Anniversary of Sir Winston Churchill's birth. With historic impact and .500 fine gold (12 karat) content, each of the new British Commonwealth gold coins shown above has genuine numismatic value and an outstanding investment potential!

Featuring striking obverse portraits of Churchill, and reverse designs depicting the Turks and Caicos Islands Coat of Arms, the new gold commemoratives are REAL MONEY, beautiful collector specimens of actual circulating currency. In fact, the unique lettered edge inscription on each coin reads, "Redeemable at Turks and Caicos for U.S. Currency". The Churchill coins are the only coins in the world which may be converted directly into U.S. dollars without premium in the country of issue that actually states so right on the edge!

Uncirculated 100 Crown and 50 Crown Churchill gold coins may be purchased at $100 and $50 respectively. You pay no premium or exchange commission. Since 1 Crown in Turks and Caicos Islands currency is equivalent to $1 U.S., you will obtain these historic coins at virtually no risk whatsoever. Uncirculated coins will also be sold through various banks, clearing houses and business establishments on the islands – further illustrating the circulating legal tender status of the issue.

WE HAVE OVER $6 MILLION IN ASSETS

WE HAVE OVER $2 MILLION NET WORTH

WE HAVE MANY GREAT CUSTOMERS

WORLD-WIDE WANTS YOU . . . AS A CUSTOMER

We can pay you 10% above market guide. And more.*

As suppliers to many major investors and important coin collectors we are in constant need of fresh stock.

We are prepared to pay above market for the strictly-graded coins our clients need. All offerings will be studied, but these are what we are actively seeking now.

- Early U.S. flowing hair type coins, copper and silver, 1793 to 1807. All grades, but higher quality preferred.
- All U.S. coins 1808 to 1891; gold, silver or copper in XF and better condition.
- All rare Morgan and Peace dollars, preferably BU.
- All seated Liberty silver coins, in Uncirc. or Proof.
- All 1794 to 1873 silver dollars, all grades, especially Uncirc. and Proof.
- All BU and Proof trade dollars.
- All rare gold coins, especially 1795 to 1829.
- All Carson City, Charlotte and Dahlonega gold.

Additionally, we have an active market in Scarce and Choice Paper Money, U.S. gold pieces of $1.00, $2.50 Classic, $3.00, $5.00 Classic, $5.00 Lib (n/m) $10.00 Lib (n/m) and $20.00 Lib (l).

We also seek Half Cents, Large Cents, Flying Eagle Cents, Copper Nickel Cent (1859) Three Cent Pieces, Silver (II), Shield Nickelt, Half Dimes, Flowing Hair 1794/95, Half Dimes Dr. Bust (lg. eagle) 1800/05, S.L. Half Dimes (no stars), S.L. Half Dimes (stars obv.) and S.L. Half Dimes (arrows).

To get what we want for our demanding and growing list of clients we will pay well above the market guide, immediately. For prompt action we will pay well above the market guide, immediately.

Three Advatnages To You

1. Check or cash for you immediately. Upon receipt a check will be sent to you by return mail, which you may either accept or refuse. Or we can pay in actual cash, "green money"; or any way you wish. But pack your coins securely and forward them to us by U. S. Mail, or REA. Be sure to insure or register adequately.

2. We will travel, or pay your fare to New York. For coins or collections of special interest we will visit you, or pay your fare to New York if we agree on an acceptable trade. For details, call Tim LaPointe at the number shown below.

3. We pay postage and shipping both ways. We will include the full cost of forwarding your coins to us in our offer. If you decline our offer we will return your coins postpaid, with an additional check for all shipping costs you may have incurred.

* We are currently paying 10% above the bid price for all Circ. type coins in strict XF as per latest COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER listings.

WORLD-WIDE NEEDS TO BUY RARE COINS

NOW

U. S. OR FOREIGN

ANTECDOTE

At a recent auction, a collector sold his rare coin for $80,000 — after commissions (20%) he received $64,000 — the buyer was a dealer — the dealer immediately sold the coin for $95,000 to another collector — this transaction cost the customer $31,000 — he waited 3 months for the auction to come about — it took him 30 days after the auction to get his money — World-Wide would have paid at least $80,000 cash to the customer on the spot — 4 months before he received his cash from the auction — call us today for an appraisal of your collection — we can demonstrate time and again how we can save you at least 20% over auctioning your coins.

We can pay you premium prices because – we need your Gold Coins.

we need your Silver Dollars.

and we can use your type coins and discards, too!

Elsewhere, according to the news, business is bad.

Here at Old Roman, it is tremendous.

This is why we need your coins, and are prepared to pay consistently high dollars to get them.

Our customers now number in the thousands, and range from juniors who collect novelties to serious collectors, who may specialize in rare gold coins.

We are currently paying 10% above the Bid Price for all CIRC. Type coins in Strict XF, as per latest Coin Dealer Newsletter listings.

If you are disposing of an entire collection, or just want to take a good profit now on part of your holdings, we are the people to call.

Our customers are pressing us, and we must meet their demands. So we urge you to take advantage of this opportunity.

Just about everything you have is of genuine interest to us.

Read our three-point program below.

Check our credit references, if you wish, with The First National Bank of Glen Head, N. Y.

But call or write us today. Ask for Tim LaPointe, and you will get prompt and courteous attention.

Including a choice selection of coins from the Dr. Alfred Globus collection and the Rear Admiral O. H. Dodson collection.

Superior Stamp & Coin Co., Inc. is most proud and happy to announce that we have been selected to conduct the 1975 A.N.A. auction which will be held in Los Angeles, California August 19th. - August 23rd.

SELECT CONSIGNMENTS NOW BEING ACCEPTED

FOR THE NUMISMATIC "EVENT OF THE YEAR"

Being awarded the A.N.A. Convention auction is like winning the World Series, or the Kentucky Derby, or the Super Bowl. It is the single, most prestigious numismatic event during any given year. It is attended by more people, from more countries, (with more money), than any other local, regional, or national coin show in the world.

Every dealer worth his salt, every major collector, specialist, speculator, and investor lists this convention as a MUST on his itinerary. A conservative estimate is that over 20,000 people will amble up and down the aisles during this five day event. It's the Rose Bowl Game for the coin industry . . . and because of SUPERIOR'S proven record in merchandising rare coins, because of our expert cataloging and exclusive mailing lists, and because of our professionalism; the Directors of the A.N.A. have rewarded our contributions to the numismatic profession by allowing us to conduct the auction at the 1975 A.N.A. Convention.

NOW IS THE IDEAL TIME TO CONSIGN OR SELL YOUR COINS

Believe us, the time to sell is NOW. The old economic principle of "Supply and Demand" assures you top prices. YOUR RARE COINS SHOULD REALIZE MORE MONEY AT THIS IMPORTANT AUCTION SALE THAN AT ANY PREVIOUS TIME IN HISTORY. Do not be so naive as to assume that coins will continue to appreciate forever. Coins are subject to the same economic principles as other markets. The same rules apply. TAKE ADVANTAGE OF THE COIN MARKET NOW!

This sale is almost half-filled already, some of the highlights are as follows:

1. A magnificent group of mint state U.S. Colonial coins from the Dr. Alfred Globus collections plus many more superb U.S. and foreign gold coins.
2. A fabulous run of U.S. gold coins, including all early types.
3. The Portman Collection—a complete Type Set of U.S. coinage, mostly in mint state.
4. A vast assortment of rare Greek and Roman gold and silver coins, including specimens from the Rear Admiral O. H. Dodson collection.

Superior will put all of it's energies and resources together to produce one of the finest auctions ever conducted for an A.N.A. sale. So, you have everything working for you. The timing is perfect. Never has the demand been greater for your coins. We need your collection. You can consign them to us for inclusion in the A.N.A. auction, or if you prefer we will purchase them outright. Either way, suit yourself, but we seriously suggest that you make your move. NOW IS THE TIME TO SELL!

If you want to consign your coins, or collection to this important sale, please contact Larry or Ira Goldberg immediately. Committments are being made now. Reap the rewards that this auction will provide --- top prices for choice consignments. If necessary, one of us will meet with you personally to discuss your numismatic future for 1975. Superior Stamp and Coin Co., Inc. is the numismatic house to handle your coins during 1975. Plan to include your coins in the forthcoming, 1975 A.N.A. auction slae. This monumental, well-attended, record-breaking event will make numismatic history. Act now while we are still accepting choice consignments

(PLEASE DO NOT SHIP COINS --- CONTACT US FIRST)

CASH ADVANCE

THAT'S RIGHT!!!! We will advance a percentage of the fair retail value of your collection immediately upon receipt. Please send inventory first — do not send coins until you hear from us. We will then sell your collection at one of our forthcoming auction sales and you will receive your final settlement with 30 days after the sale. Our commission rates are always reasonable.

During the time that your coins are in our possession, they are stored in our protected and insured vaults. When you receive your advance check, if for any reason you are not satisfied with the amount of the check, just return it and your coins will be returned postpaid.

In many cases, our advance will be almost equal to other offers of outright purchase.

If you are not currently on our mailing list, just drop us a postcard with your full name and address and we will place your name on our catalog mailing list.

REMEMBER — It is not too late to have your collection included in our next outstanding auction sale.

OUR SALES ARE USUALLY HELD IN THE PARKER HOUSE

We are always in need of desirable numismatic material and will be happy to travel anywhere in the world to acquire it — either for auction or for outright purchase provided the value of the material warrants it.

NO COLLECTION IS TOO LARGE — We will furnish bank references upon request.

NEW BOOKS FROM ARES

SELECT GREEK COINS. George F. Hill.
The finest style coins in the British Museum were carefully photographed and enlarged to bring to life the greatest detail and display their artistic merits to the fullest. An unsurpassed guide to excellence and the best reference to finest style by one of the foremost experts of this century. 64 pp. + 64 pl. $15

THE COINAGE OF THE EUROPEAN CONTINENT. W. C. Hazlitt.
Hazlitt gives a complete historical outline of European coinage, country by country, as well as a chronological listing of European rulers from the Middle Ages to the 20th Century. All European mints and coin denominations are carefully catalogued to round out the usefulness of this work. Many text illustrations. 774 pp. $30

CHRISTODOULOS THE COUNTERFEITER. J. Svoronos.
A complete catalog of the counterfeit Greek coins, produced by the master craftsman Constantine Christodoulos. The illustrations are superior to any previous edition. An indispensable reference work for both collectors and dealers. All pieces are pictured. English and French text. 38 pp. + 17 pl. $5

THE ANCIENT BOEOTIANS AND THE COINAGE OF BOEOTIA. W. Rhys Roberts and Barclay V. Head. ARES has combined both of these excellent historical and numismatic reference works in one volume. Roberts explores the artistic, political and cultural history of Boeotia. Head describes and analyzes its ancient coinage from the earliest beginnings through Roman times. Both sections feature detailed date charts of important epochs and historical events for easy reference. 208 pp. + 6 pl. $10

HISTORY OF ANCIENT COINAGE, B.C. 700—300. P. Gardner.
This is the well written story of ancient coinage from its earliest beginnings to the pinnacles of artistic achievement reached in Hellenistic times. One of the great numismatic scholars at his very best. Richly illustrated with excellent plates. 492 pp. + 11 pl. $15

ATHENS, ITS HISTORY AND COINAGE BEFORE THE PERSIAN INVASION. Charles Seltman.
A handbook in one volume which correlates the political and artistic history of Athens with that city's early coinage. Considered the basic reference work on both the history and the numismatics of early Athens. Numerous text illustrations and excellent plates. Original large format. 228 pp. + 24 pl. $25

HISTORICAL RESULTS FROM BACTRIAN COINS AND OTHER DISCOVERIES IN AFGHANISTAN. H. T. Prinsep. Indispensable to the numismatist as it lists and gives individual biographies of all the Greek kings of India, illustrates the coins and tells how to read their inscriptions. 130 pp. + 16 pl. $10

MORE ON OUR NATIONWIDE BUYING SERVICE

The success of our nationwide buying service was entirely contingent upon you-and you have made it successful. From Maine to Hawaii, we have received countless collections to buy. In the two years since the beginning of our nationwide buying service, we have purchased 87.4% of these collections. This has enabled us to expand our retail sales, but even more important, it has instituted a rational, reasonable, and secure way for you to sell your collection. To those of you who have sold us material, we pledge our continued fair and upright dealings. For those of you that we have not yet met, we urge you to take advantage of our nationwide buying service.

Here is what we are able to provide:

1. Unlimited instant cash (confidential, of course, if you wish).
2. Bank references available. (Contact Mr. Bill Whitsitt at Citizens National Bank, 2001 Bryan Tower, Dallas, or Mr. Steve Parker, Texas Bank & Trust, One Main Place, Dallas.)
3. Call us collect at (214) 748-4044 or (214) 748-4045 if you desire to sell a large collection, or you may ship your collection with invoice to Mike Follett Rare Coins, Plaza Level, One Main Place, Dallas, Texas 75250. Within 24 to 48 hours, you will receive our generous offer by return mail.
 Should you decide not to sell your collection, we will return your coins immediately upon hearing from you. Naturally, the coins will be fully insured and we will pay all postage. As mentioned above, 87.4% of those who have sent us coins in this manner have sold their collection. Through this method, you risk absolutely nothing.
4. Should you have an extremely large collection, we can and will be at your home, office, or bank anywhere in the U.S.A. within 24 hours of your call.
5. We are prepared to buy your entire collection, not just the choice material.
6. You are selling to a coin retailer, not someone who sells to another dealer. This is so important. Consequently, you will receive the highest possible price.
7. The company you will be dealing with is known and respected througout the numismatic world. Backed with 13 years of experience in buying, selling, and grading coins, Mike Follett Rare Coins has established itself as a leader in the numismatic fraternity. Your coins will be inspected by either Mike Follett or Don Willis. Mr. Willis, formerly of Marlow, Oklahoma, is also widely known for his knowledge of numismatics. He is a member of the P.N.G., T.N.A., and A.N.A. It is with great pride that we welcome him in our organization in order that we may be better able to serve you.

We are in particular need of the following numismatic items: all choice type material, early bust dollars and quarters in any grade, all key and semi-key coins with a wholesale value of $10 or more, scarce and rare dates in seated quarters or halves, and all U.S.A. and foreign gold — both rare and common. As we have marketed 19 coins with retail value of over $25,000 each during the last twelve months, we desperately need rare and unique material.

To conclude, take advantage of our policy. It is a service that thousands of satisfied customers have found profitable and safe. We sincerely believe that we can go further in meeting your individual needs than any other buying program offered today.

WHAT IS THE WORTH OF YOUR COLLECTION?

IT DEPENDS UPON WHO IS ASKING.

Many of the world's most avid coin collectors make their home in-and-around Beverly Hills. United National Coin Corporation is proud to have earned their respect and confidence.

Of late, their interest in acquiring new pieces, and whole new collections, is straining our ability to provide. This buying mood reflects the uncertainty associated with other types of investments as much as it does their interest in numismatics.

Therefore, you are in an ideal position to negotiate a sale of your collection.

United National Coin executives will fly anywhere, almost instantly, to appraise your collection. We are willing to purchase your collection for cash in its entirety, or the portions you designate.

If you have a sincere interest in pursuing this opportunity, we would like to hear from you.

The simplest and fastest way is to telephone us on our toll free Wats line. (800) 421-0794.

$100,000,000.00

For 25 years

Walter Breen who is one of the foremost numismatist in the world has catalogued over $100,000,000.00 of rare coins for the largest professional auction houses in the U.S.A.

Breen says:
"Rare coins should be sold at auction, not by private sale or 'treaty'. There is no substitute for the objective price of the auction marketplace — it has always proven to be the highest possible realized price for the owner of rare coins."
Walter Breen is now a Vice President of our company. He has written the article on numismatics for the Encyclopedia Brittanica, has authored many volumes of works in every area of coinage, and has just recently been honored by an appointment as Consultant to the Numismatic Division of the Smithsonian Institution.
Walter Breen and his staff at Pine Tree will insure the greatest success possible for liquidating rare coin inventories. Pine Tree Auction Company is a major source for the coin collector's needs.

WANTED

America's best buyer of Rare coins urgently needs your collection!

As one of America's foremost Rare Coin firms the demands on our inventory are extensive, requiring us to purchase Choice and Rare Coins at an ever expanding rate.

We Want To Buy: Your entire collection is urgently needed no matter what the size, if it contains the items we are looking for. Generally we are interested in any collection which contains Choice and Rare coins and early U. S. coins in AU or better condition.

Individual Coins: We are sincerely interested in individual sets and single coins as well as complete collections. We are particularly interested in worthwhile numismatic items that retail over $10.00 each. Our needs range from Colonials thru Gold including rare dates as well as more common dates in Choice condition.

Selling to US: You will find that selling to our Rare Coin Galleries is easy and safe. Here is all you do — Package your coins carefully and send them to us by insured or registered mail. Immediately upon receipt of your coins David Bland, Jr., will personally examine your coins and send you our generous offer in the form of a confidential insured check. Upon receipt of our offer you can notify us of your decision to sell (nearly every one of the thousands of offers we have made over the past decade has been accepted). If for any reason you decide not to sell, your coins will be returned to you by insured mail at our expense. If your collection is too large to mail please send an itemized inventory to the attention of David Bland, Jr., and we will travel to you if the size of the collection warrants it.

You Will Receive More For Your Coins: Because our needs are so great at this time we will pay more than any other major dealer in the U. S. Why not sell to us as thousands of other satisfied collectors have.

For references you may apply to any numismatic publication or numismatic organization. We are members of: The American Numismatic Association (Mr. Bland is Life Member 677); Professional Numismatists Guild; Texas Numismatic Association; etc.

WE BUY RARE COINS!!!

You can consign yourself to an auction and pay an auction company 15% or 20% to sell us your coins (we attend virtually every major auction and spend tens of thousands of dollars a month buying coins we need at auctions) or you can sell your coins to a wholesaler (another dealer who through the tele-type or at the next coin show will sell your coin to us—we attend all major coin shows and on 5 separate occasions last year we spent over $100,000.00 in one show buying coins from other dealers).

Why not sell directly to one of the Nation's largest retail coin dealerships???

WE PAY FAST, WE PAY CASH, AND WE PAY MORE!!

We are buying all rare and choice United States gold, silver and copper coins and patterns. Some of our immediate needs include:

1794 U.S. DOLLAR — STRUCK IN COPPER
JUDD -18....UNIQUE!

1794 Dollar struck in copper. Unique and from the famous Judd collection of United States patterns. One of the rarest and sought after coins to ever appear on the Numismatic Market in many, many years. This coin is The First Dollar ever struck by the United States Government. This coin was struck with the unfinished die — no stars on right or left borders. Being the only one struck — it was found unsatisfactory since there were no stars representing the states on the coin. After this was decided, the mint struck another 1794 Copper Dollar with stars on the right and left borders — and thus the mint officials are said to have given the first dollar (the rejected design) to President George Washington — this being that coin. A once in a lifetime opportunity to acquire a piece of early americana. Since this coin is the first dollar struck by this country, we believe it to be an excellent investment for the future. $100,000.00

MONNAIES FRANCAIS 1789 - 1975 2nd Edition

by Victor Gadoury

This important catalog includes all types/dates/mintmarks (and most varieties) of French coins beginning with the Constitutional Period of Louis XVI. Several new categories have been added to this new, expanded edition. Each type is illustrated with high quality photographs.

Included are:

Gold, silver, bronze, & copper regular issue coins.
Mint visit coins in all metals.
Commemoratives 1793 - 1929.
Monaco coins 1651 - 1975.
Saarland 1954 - 1955.

All items are priced in three grades by date & mintmark, with mintage figures given by each date/mintmark.

The catalog is arranged by denominiation, lowest denomination first. Each coin is listed by date/mintmark with mintage figures and prices in three grades, all in one line across (in the style of American catalogs such as the "Redbook" and the "Telephone Book".)

Although the text is in French, the excellent format makes this by far, the most usable reference on its subject. The first edition was immediately accepted in this country by all who saw it. Although it was in direct competition in France with another text on the same subject, it was also accepted there. Evidence of this can be found in the fact that no less a personnage than M. Jean Mazard wrote the introduction of this second edition!

The most significant differences between this and the first edition are the prices. This second edition could well be subtitled "The Truth About the Value of French Coins"! Some of the differences in value between this and the first edition are amazing, even astounding!

270 pages; hardbound.

Prices are in French Francs, but, again, this is no problem. The American reader need only divide by 5 or multiply by .2 to arrive at the corresponding U. S. Dollar price. Further, the introduction includes a table which gives the English and Italian equivalents of the French grades.

DEUTSCHE TALER DOPPELGULDEN DOPPELTALER VON 1800 BIS 1871

by Norbert Thun

255 pages; over 800 photographs; hard cover.

This excellent work, by a studious researcher, has become the most widely used handbook on the subject of the large silver coins (talers, doubleguldens, doubletalers) of Germany, 1800 - 1871.

Each type is illustrated and cross-referenced to Davenport, Jaeger, and AKS numbers. Further, each date of each type is listed thereunder, with prices in three grades for each date (this is the first and only catalog on the subject to deal with the pricing of dates in this manner). Mintage statistics, where known, are also given. Further, to back up the price information, recent auction records are given as footnotes for each type (this is also the first time such firm intelligence has been so handled.

Although the text is in German, it really constitutes no problem, even for the beginner, because the text is limited and the format is so uncomplicated. Prices are in DM (German Marks) but again, that is no problem as one need only divide by 2.5 or multiply by .4 to arrive at U. S. Dollars.

We stocked this book when it was first issued in 1974. We said then that the prices in it were the most accurate we had ever seen in any priced catalog. Our original stock of this book was sold out immediately. We now have 100 more copies on hand.

SOUVENIERS NUMISMATIQUES DE LA REVOLUTION DE 1848

by Felicien de Sauley

This work is the standard reference on the medals & tokens of Revolution of 1848. Included in it are 1324 handsome illustrations on 60 pages of plates. Each item is fully described in the text.

Along with the 'standard' categories of tokens & medals are included the political & satirical pieces of both sides of the bloody revolution. Also included are 158 illustrations of the pattern coins of 1848.

Long out of print, this important reference was reprinted in 1973. 160 pp., hardbound.

The price supplement gives average retail prices for each item listed. Where the same item exists in more than one metal composition — and where one metal composition may be scarcer/more valuable than another, a price differential is given.

THE 1975 CANADIAN NUMISMATIC ASSOCIATION AUCTION

Charlton Auctions are pleased to announce that we have been awarded the 1975 C.N.A. Auction. The 1975 C.N.A. Convention will be held at Calgary, Alberta from July 14th to 16th, the three days following the world famous Calgary Stampede and the high point of the Calgary Centennial Celebrations. We expect this Convention to be the biggest and best ever. The Canadian Numismatic Association's Annual Conventions draw dealers and collectors from the four corners of the world, eagerly seeking choice and rare numismatic material. If you are thinking of selling your collection of numismatic items, why not let Charlton Auctions sell them for you at the 1975 C.N.A. Convention Auction?

If you want to realize the most for your rare and top grade coins and paper money, consider these features when selling through a Charlton Auction:

1. Canada's leading Numismatic Auction House.
2. Our commission rates are reasonable.
3. You receive prompt settlement in full.
4. There are no listing fees or hidden charges.
5. You have the benefit of our large and active mailing list.
6. Your coins will be offered in our quality illustrated catalogue.
7. Your coins will be accurately graded and described.
8. Your rarities will receive the attention they deserve.

We invite your choice condition Canadian and foreign numismatic material for consignment. For full information please phone or write Ingrid Smith, Manager, Charlton Auctions, at 416-362-5281 collect. We are looking forward to the 1975 C.N.A. Auction to be the largest ever and as a result our deadline for accepting consignments will be May 15th. Expert cataloguing together with a beautifully illustrated catalogue assures you of top prices. Why not consign your coins early?

"The source of Wisdom in coin selecting"

START COLLECTING ANCIENTS AND START RIGHT!

This is a SPECIAL OFFER. But first, let me tell you what kind of special offer it is NOT; i.e., that kind where you are offered a "genuine ancient coin over two thousand years old for only $5.00". I do not mean to knock such an offer, as you do get your money's worth, but simply to illustrate that this is definitely not that kind of offering.

Some knowledge of the field is necessary to collect intelligently, and there is one book, "Selections From The Numismatist on Ancient Coins", which, along with the catalogue, "Roman Coins and Their Values", latest edition, can make you a knowledgable collector in the time it takes you to read the book. I have started a large number of collectors on their way with that very book; it is a proven success. The catalogue, like the U.S. Red Book, is indispensable, not just for values, but for the thousands of aids contained therein.

These two books cost $5.00 and $11.00 respectively, and since most collectors are so anxious to get started with the coins, they often put off the purchase of the books; and this can be a disastrous mistake. For that reason I am combining, in this offer, the two books with three coins of different Roman Emperors. And this is the most important part of the offer, because the three coins will be in the highest grade available, Extremely Fine; coins that would not always be purchased by a beginner who wishes to accumulate as many Emperors as he can right away. These are the coins that an experienced collector, putting together a quality series of Roman Emperor portrait coins, would be proud to own.

This Special Offer will be open for as long as our supply of these high grade coins last, after which the price will be raised in accordance with the higher prices we must pay to augment our supply.

So order this Special Offer right now for just $65.00

SOUTH AFRICA PROOF SETS

Due to the large response we have had in purchasing and selling the low mintage South Africa proof sets with gold we are offering the better dates for the collector and investors benefit well under the SA market prices and believe it or not still below the mid-sixties prices. We believe in these sets since they are proof and due to the small mintages the prices are apt to double and triple in the next two years. The Vatican series is a typical example ... 1959 set with a mintage of 3000 just a few years ago was selling for $400 or so and today it is worth wholesale $2000 plus whereas the 1959 SA set with a mintage of 350 is wholesaling at the $900 plus levels. If you appreciate quality and beauty and would like a solid investment in numismatics then these are the items you should purchase now before the prices rise!

THE STANDARD CATALOG OF WORLD PAPER MONEY by Albert Pick

The first world paper money library in one volume is now available and ready for you to purchase. This is the ultimate in paper money catalogs with features and information never before offered. Every collector should own at least one book on paper money and this should be it —

FEATURING:

- The paper money of 249 countries
- Over 4,000 original photographs . . . first time ever published
- Covers all government issued paper money of the world since 1900 (plus many more popular military, emergency and earlier issues).
- Over 20,000 notes listed by type and denomination.
- 720 pages loaded with paper money facts.
- Includes world currency exchange rates, a detailed grading guide, and a special comprehensive chapter on how to collect paper money.

Only $15.00 from your favorite coin dealer or book store. Or, order direct from the publisher. We'll pay the postage.

ATTENTION RAG PICKERS!

With rare coins selling for astronmical prices, many collectors and investors are turning to an area that still offers exceptional value for your dollar — Paper Money. Compare the rarity an beauty of large size paper money with any coin, and I believe you will be entirely convinced that currency is one of the best values per dollar spent.

It would only take one out of every ten coin collectors to get interested in collecting currency to make the prices of most of the better pieces triple or better. For example, the $5 silver certificate, 1923 series, commonly called the "Porthole Note" is as rare in uncirculated as the 1907 $20 Ht-Relief gold piece, but less than 1/10th the price. Also, the CU $5 1899 series Silver Certificate "Oneapapa" compares favorably in rariety and beauty with an XF/AU $10 gold type 1797-1804, but costs $275.00 instead of $3000.00.

We would be interested in ANY CU Large Size Currency. Western States National Currency wanted.

Special offer to introduce you to The Art Medalist–Medallic Art Company's new collector newsletter.

1909 Abraham Lincoln Commemorative in solid bronze for just $4

In 1909, Medallic Art Company issued this beautifully sculpted high-relief medal celebrating the Centennial of Abraham Lincoln's birth. The original issue price was $4.

We are now offering this medal again — at the 1909 price of $4 — exclusively to collectors who reserve a complimentary Charter Subscription to The Art Medalist.

This exceptionally large, 2¾" diameter commemorative will be struck from the original dies, in solid bronze with a mellow antique patina. Only one order can be accepted per subscriber.

The Art Medalist is a brand new, professionally written, illustrated publication from America's oldest producer of fine art medals. In it you'll find "inside" news and views on new medallic offerings, activities within the medallic field, artist profiles, reviews of books, and, from time to time, special offerings to subscribers only. It will be published six times during 1975 and subscriptions are free to collectors.

Don't miss this opportunity to get your name on our Charter Subscription mailing list. Fill in and mail the coupon below and we'll rush the first issue of The Art Medalist to you.

Medallic Art Company Collector Service Division
Old Ridgebury Road, Danbury, Conn. 06810

Please reserve my complimentary Charter Subscription to The Art Medalist.

☐ I also wish to order the 1909 Abraham Lincoln Commemorative in solid bronze @ $4 plus 75¢ to help defray the cost of postage, handling and insurance.

Enclosed is my check or money order.

ARDEE COVERS Honors

THE 100th ANNIVERSARY of the birth of SIR WINSTON CHURCHILL

. . . with a rare and extremely limited series of PN Covers

DESIGN 8 — LIMITED EDITION OF 100

First in ARDEE COVERS CHURCHILL SERIES will be the USA PNC (Design 8) pictured above. The PN Cover measures 6 by 9 inches and is franked with the following United States postage stamps — Churchill (Scott 1264) — Win the War (Scott 905) — Honoring those who have served (Scott 940). Cancelled in Washington, D.C. on November 30, 1974.

The 24 gold plate on bronze medal was produced in a limited edition by SILVER CREATIONS by appointment of the CHURCHILL FAMILY and is the only official commemorative for the U.S. paying tribute to SIR WINSTON CHURCHILL'S 100th birthday. With the kind cooperation of SILVER CREATIONS, LTD., ARDEE COVERS arranged to reserve the first 100 of these historic medals.

Subscribers are limited to one Design 8 PNC. When supplies are exhausted, checks will be returned immediately.

The ensuing PNCs offered with the same format, combining the official commemorative stamps and coin of the realm, plus historic medals will be released as soon as the coins are made available. ARDEE COVERS selection of the governments paying tribute are Cook Islands, Cayman Islands, Turk and Caicos Islands, Isle of Man, Belize and St. Helena.

Get to know ARDEE COVERS — producers of extremely limited editions of current PNC and Commemorative Covers. Preferred customers will receive 10 day advance notification of public announcements.

17% SALE

We strongly believe that the fun should be kept in numismatics and that this wonderful hobby should not be turned exclusively into a rich man's investment medium. Therefore, for a limited time we will limit our markup to 17% over our cost for most of the rare coins in our extensive inventory. This is not a "grabbag" but carefully selected choice rare coins that carry our usual unconditional 10-day return guarantee. Many collectors and dealers who have already received their portfolios have expressed their plasure with the Proof Two Cent Pieces, rare mintmarked U.S. Gold, Choice Brilliant Uncirculated Silver Dollars, high grade World Crowns, etc.

You can be as general or particular as you wish when indicating your special areas of interest. We will do our best to please you with our old fashioned conservative grading standards combined with courteous personalized service.

We reserve the right to withdraw this offer at any time. So don't miss out on this special opportunity to acquire rare coins assembled in superb portfolios for you by A-Mark's experts.

HOW YOU CAN KEEP ON MAKING BIG PROFITS INVESTING IN COINS

by Harry J. Forman...

$7.50 POSTPAID

More than 14,000 readers purchased and profited by Harry J. Forman's first book How You Can Make Big Profits Investing In Coins

More than 14,000 readers were permitted to review with Mr. Forman every single prediction he has ever made about U. S. coins, a candor no other investment counsellor has dared to emulate

More than 14,000 readers saw Mr. Forman's picks once again prove more than 95% correct. That is to say, more than 95% of the specific issues he recommended have already increased by as much or more than he said they would for the same period, reaping in some cases over 300% profit for those who followed his advice

Now, Mr. Forman is giving to one and all a second chance to make bonanza profits in his new, fantastic sequel! HOW YOU CAN KEEP ON MAKING BIG PROFITS INVESTING IN COINS. Remember, when investing, it's the early bird that winds up with the biggest nest egg, so don't delay

ON DEC. 31 1974 AMERICA TURNED TO GOLD

Gold ownership by U.S. citizens became a reality on December 31, 1974. To commemorate this event we at ARDEE COVERS are offering a special GOLD COMMEMORATIVE COVER measuring 6 by 9 inches.

This cacheted cover depicts a likeness of a present day newspaper featuring an embossed gold foil replica of coins, bars and ingots hot stamped on the cover. This unusual commemorative cover is franked with three stamps the current American flags (Scott 1519), the California Gold Rush (Scott 954), the Franklin D. Roosevelt and White House (Scott 932) cancelled in Washington, D. C. on December 31, 1974.

Included are two reprints of noteworthy interest. One is COIN WORLD'S reproduction of the recent Senate Bill which amended the gold ban act of 1933, restoring the right of United States citizens to own gold. The other reprint from the May 1933 edition of THE NUMISMATIST is the complete text of the order issued by President Franklin D. Roosevelt prohibiting U. S. citizens gold ownership.

CC-3 Serially numbered Commemorative Cover 3 is a Limited Edition of 1200 (Limit: 4)

This is a very limited edition of 1200. To avoid being disappointed, please order early, as we expect a rapid sellout of this unique commemorative cover. Orders processed on a first come — first served basis. Checks will be returned immediately when supplies are exhausted.

ARDEE COVERS, a subsidiary of ROBERT DEAN & COMPANY

Over 12 years in preparation

Author Neil Shafer spent over a decade piecing together the amazing story of the vast and uncharted area of Philippine emergency currency. He is the acknowledged researcher in this field of paper money issued by armies, towns and guerrillas during the World War II Japanese occupation.

Definitive coverage

The catalog lists and values hundreds of types and varieties for over 30 note-issuing areas. Included is data on error notes, counterfeits and reprints. The catalog is a permanent, convenient reference and a storehouse of information on the subject.

Unique illustrations

Numerous illustrations of these crude-looking notes, never before seen by collectors, enhance the wealth of official data and historical background information.

Special sections

A special foreword by Carlos P. Romulo opens the book, and the final pages contain a section updating Shafer's earlier work on regular Philippine issues.

464 pages. Hard bound.

BUY IN HASTE...REPENT AT LEISURE?

When you're about to buy a coin for your collection you should ask yourself several questions.

Do you like the condition of the coin? Is the price right for you? Do you have return privileges and, if so, for how long? Are you buying the coin from the rightful owner? Is it the scarce piece you think it is, or is it actually a less expensive variety? Has the coin been operated on: whizzed, tooled, or even plugged?

Ask yourself these questions. And ask the seller.

Then, ask ANA Certification Service some questions.

Is the coin genuine? Has it been altered? In other words, ask ANACS if you're about to spend your good money on a coin worth no more than the metal in it.

The coin you intend to buy is probably genuine. But if it's not, now is the best time to find out.

While you can exercise your return privilege.

While you can seek a refund on your purchase.

And before you make the same mistake a second time.

So when you buy a coin (1) obtain a receipt from the seller; (2) request a written statement of return privileges; and (3) send the coin immediately to: ANACS, P. O. Box 87, Ben Franklin Station, Washington, D. C. 20044 by registered mail.

Even better ... have the seller send the coin to ANACS, and buy the coin contingent upon the seller receiving certification that it is genuine.

Provide your name, address, coin description and value of coin. Enclose return postage and your fee, from the schedule below:

Coin Value	Service Fee	Special ANA Member Service Fee
$ 0 - 125	$ 6.00	$ 5.40

SEABY

OF LONDON

Yes! We may be based a few miles away across the water but we're pretty mobile. In fact, our experts travel to America five or six times a year to visit clients and buy collections.

We deal in world coins — ancient, medieval and modern. Do you have coins for sale? Being on Europe's doorstep we have many continental contacts and can pay top prices for choice material. Before disposing of your coins too hastily, why not write and let us know what you have?

We purchase coins for CASH. We sell coins on COMMISSION. We catalogue collections for AUCTION either in London or New York. We have a team of experts qualified to make the most of your coins. Drop us a line!

Bert Seaby, Peter Seaby, Laurence Brown, Frank Purvey and others from the Seaby establishment will be travelling around the States this year. You may be on our route or persuade us to make a detour!

Send for a list of our numismatic publications and a copy of our monthly COIN & MEDAL BULLETIN. And if there are coins you are particularly wanting — let us know!

THE AMERICAN BICENTENNIAL MEDALLION

The story of America appears on this significant Bicentennial Medal. A magnificent Liberty carries the torch and laural wreath on the obverse. In the background is a cannon, reminiscent of the heroic struggle for freedom, as well as Independence Hall, indicative of the Constitution. A plowman takes us back to the struggle of the pioneers, while smoke rising from a factory signifies our present industrial might. The reverse features the American Eagle, poised for flight, peaceful yet ever watchful, and the Liberty Bell, reproduced in minute detail.

HOW TO SELL COINS BY MAIL

By G. A. Heath
WHAT THIS PUBLICATION CONTAINS

The basics of how to sell coins by mail, capital required, equipment and supplies, the advertisement, its purpose, where and when to advertise.

Pricing of coins, mail order auction bids, timing of the ads. Production of coin lists, the covering letter, the inventory, filling orders, the standards, your reputation, educational lists.

The trader, what to do about them, conversion to cash sales, the trading list.

Your sales sheet, the layout, order forms, postal regulations, types of postal service, shipping, buying coins, credit slips, your library, cleaning coins, coin dips, sources for wholesale coins, that second career.

These and many more MONEY MAKING facts in your copy of "HOW TO SELL COINS BY MAIL". The $10.00 you spend on this will be returned many times over in coins sold for CASH. Actual copies of sales sheets. Ads that have produced over the years. The author has been selling coins by mail for the past 10 years. $10.00 Postpaid first class mail with assorted Canadian commemorative stamps.

SPECIAL GUARANTEE: If you can show us a better manual on selling coins by mail, your money cheerfully refunded.

HASTY SELLING VS. QUICK BORROWING

Selling your collection can be profitable if you have enough time to find the best prices. But a collection sold quickly is seldom sold profitably.

In any emergency, borrow the money you need at Edelman's. Use your collection as collateral and still retain complete ownership.

At Edelman's, you can obtain quick confidential loans for any amount up to 80% of the value of your properties — from $50 to $50,000 and more. Take as long as 30 months to pay with a repayment plan tailored to your specific needs. Your collection will be safely protected in Edelman's air-conditioned vaults until you reclaim it. Write today for further information.

T. FOX NEEDS YOUR COINS

and will pay high prices to get them. If you're reading this ad, chances are you have coins to sell. If so, you've come to the right place. We are in desperate need of all numismatic items for both our mail order and our new retail outlet. Our credentials are unquestioned in the coin industry (we've advertised in Coin World for the last dozen years). Our check is the fastest in the East. Just ship your coins (insured or registered) and our offer, in the form of a check, will rocket back to you the same day your package arrives. And we mean the same day (not an annoying 2 or 3 weeks later).

Should you decide not to accept our offer (which seldom happens), we will pay shipping costs both ways. We can use just about anything, from ½ cents to $50 slugs, paper money, foreign coins, from one coin to complete collections or accumulations, in all grades. Be it $20 or $200,000, we're interested. If you feel a personal visit is necessary, one of our representatives will come to you, at your convenience. Please feel free to call us collect anytime, to discuss your holdings. Certified check or cash is always available and all dealings are strictly confidential. Our bank reference is Long Island Trust Co., Garden City Park, N.Y., Walter Cooper, V.P.

When selling, contact T. Fox first you'll be glad you did!

Douglas Robins, Inc. Is Buying...

If you are considering the sale of your numismatic holdings, whether a rare single item or a large collection, it will benefit you to contact us. We are particularly interested in collections consisting of primarily United States, Canadian or World coins retailing for a minimum of $10 each. We do not purchase coins for wholesale to other dealers, and can therefore offer you a better price for your coins.

Simply send us an itemized listing of your holdings, specifying date, variety, grade, price, and any other data pertinent to the value of your coins. If we feel we can meet your asking price, or if you would rather receive our maximum offer, we will arrange to inspect your holdings.

We need top grade coins and are willing to pay top prices. Our large retail business allows us to generally buy higher and sell lower than most dealers. Do not settle for less.

If You Are Buying....

If you are a serious collector of United States, Canadian, or World Coins, you will be interested in our catalog, "A Collector's Item." We maintain perhaps the finest inventory of choice and rare Canadian coins in existence, as well as a wide selection of desirable United States and World issues, all priced competitively to represent fine values. Request a copy of our catalog. You will receive one with our compliments.

HONEST GRADING

Our old-time, accurate grading is just one of many reasons why we were steady advertisers in this section for eight years. I took two years to serve as the director of a numismatic museum, and now I'm back in the business of selling coins and currency of Mexico.

Write today for our free monthly price list. It contains a gigantic selection of Mexican Banknotes and coins of all periods, graded and priced conservatively. Remember that our BU coins always have full frosty mint luster, just as they had on the day that they were struck at the Mint.

We'll treat you right - ask anyone.

SWANN COIN CABINETS

Swann COIN CABINETS house some of the finest collections in Europe, including many museums and the entire Royal Mint coin collection in London.

An exquisite mahogany cabinet is now available to collectors in the U.S.A. It is 7½" high, 10⅛" wide and 9½" deep. The figured mahogany panelled door hinges at the base and is fitted with a brass lock.

The 13 sliding mahogany trays have rosewood fronts and 3/16" deep, felt lined circular recesses.

They are made to hold:

A 30 coins of 1⅛" diameter
B 20 coins of 1⅜" diameter
C 12 coins of 1¾" diameter
D 6 coins of 2½" diameter

Any combination of trays A to D can be supplied to a total of 13.

The inclusive price delivered by air to the U.S.A. is $250.00. Orders should be sent direct to the makers in northern England:

H. S. SWANN,
Bernard House,
Heddon-on-the-Wall,
Newcastle upon
Tyne, NE15 OBG.

Other larger cabinets holding between 400 and 6000 coins are made to special order, including cabinets to fit safes.

The not so secret ingredient of Whitman's leadership in numismatic publishing

For over thirty years, Whitman has been the foremost publisher in the numismatic field. Currently, the Whitman library includes some twenty-eight authoritative reference volumes; two of these have attained the all-time best seller ranks for non-fiction. What's the secret of Whitman's success? There are two, actually. The interest people have in money and people who write about money interestingly. That's the Whitman staff of editors: R. S. Yeoman, Kenneth Bressett, Neil Shafer and Holland Wallace — experts and numismatic scholars, all. Add to this the Whitman panels of contributing authorities, some of the most respected names in the field, and you have a combination that adds up to competence in numismatics. Whitman is competence.
